"REBECCA AT THE MILL" FEATURE OF FARM BUREAU PICNIC THIS YEAR

Although Many Problems Remain Unsolved, Committee Determines on Cider Production and Consumption at Forsyth Park on August 31, When Farmers and City Folks Will Hold Joint Outing.

Ignoring a suggestion that the picnic be held in Cuba, much of the time of the joint committee planning for the Farm Bureau picnic in Forsyth Park on August 31 was devoted Tuesday to planning for a plentiful and lawful supply of cider. Everything was reduced to terms of cider. The speakers will be selected for their capacity for drinking cider. The Refreshment Committee will dispense cider—"Rebecca at the Mill," instead of "Rebecca at the Well," will be the feature of the day. The chief duty of the Reception Committee will be to see that all visitors are shown the way to the cider mill. The Arrangements Committee will locate the mill and see that it is kept grinding and the Publicity Committee will devise means to inform the public of the impending flood of cider.

Needless to say, the cider will be of a kind that, should they attend the picnic, could be freely offered to and accepted by William J. Bryan, Congressman Volstead or William H. Anderson. In order to be certain of this, it will be made right on the spot.

The great problem confronting the committee is how much cider will be required—will there be 4,000 or 14,000 persons to supply—what will be the average cider capacity of those who attend. Out of these questions grow others, such as:

How many gallons of cider can be made quickly from a bushel of apples?

How many drinks in a gallon?

How much water may be added to the cider?

How many bushels of apples will be required?

How many mills to grind them?

Shall glasses or paper cups be used?

If paper cups, how many?

Will the sale of cider promote the sale of hot dogs?

Will the sale of hot dogs promote the sale of cider?

Leaving these questions all up in the air, the committee adjourned after E. W. Hathaway had agreed to mobilize the necessary battery, cohort, phalanx, squadron, or whatever the proper term is, of cider mills. President A. E. Jansen, of the Farm Bureau, had agreed to collect a sufficient number of truck-loads of apples reasonably free from codling moth (which is the scientific name for worms) and the Refreshment Committee had agreed to provide a sufficent number of "Rebeccas at the mill" to dispense the cider.

The committees in charge of the picnic, which is to be held under the joint auspices of the Farm and Home Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce, are as follows:

Executive Committee—E. W. Hathaway, chairman; W. C. DeWitt, Mrs. G. F. Rice, C. V. A. Decker, A. W. Hoffman, Roy M. Sutliff, representing the Chamber of Commerce; David Burgevin, John Saxe, A. E. Jansen, Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mrs. A. E. Jansen, M. H. Davis, representing the Farm and Home Bureau.

Sub-Committees.

Publicity—Roy M. Sutliff, chairman; E. L. Chase, Sydney D. M. Hudson, John Saxe, Miss L. M. Stuart.

Arrangements Committee (to have charge of grounds, parking and general arrangements)—A. E. Jansen, chairman; David Burgevin, S. M. Watts, Chester Young.

Speakers' Committee (to secure one prominent speaker for the chief address)—David Burgevin, chairman; Philip Elting, Martin Cantine.

Refreshments Committee (to have charge of privileges in connection with the sale of refreshments)—Mrs. W. A. Warren, chairman; Mrs. Frank Thompson, M. H. Davis, Mrs. W. E. Simmons, Mrs. A. E. Jansen, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. G. F. Rice.

Program and Reception Committee (to have charge of program of the events, and also to have charge of reception of those attending picnic)—W. C. DeWitt, chairman; C. V. A. Decker, H. M. Epps, A. W. Buley, W. H. Van Valkenburg, W. A. Warren, Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mrs. G. F. Rice.

Crowded Him Off Road.

William Winnie of Partition street, Saugerties, suffered a deep gash above his eye in a motorcycle accident near Blue Mountain, the other evening. Winnie was driving his motorcycle with sidecar attached in which his wife was seated, and as they were rounding one of the sharp turns of the Blue Mountain road, a Ford came along at high speed and crowded the motorcycle into the ditch, and it overturned throwing him and his wife out, and the wound he received required three stitches to close. The Ford driver never stopped and his identity is unknown.

Reject Bus Lines.

Bus line franchise applications were the center of discussion in a session of little other business held by the common council of Middletown Monday night. The aldermen, after a hearing, rejected the requests of George Sannwald to operate a line from Middletown to Ellenville, and later turned down a similar application of Addison C. Haines.

DEMANDS SOVIETS FREE AMERICANS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 27.—The United States has made new demands upon Soviet Russia for the immediate release of American citizens who are now held prisoners in Russia, it was learned at the state department today.

The note of this government voicing the demands has been dispatched to the American consular agent at Reval to be handed to the soviet representative there for communication to his government.

This is understood to be the first direct demand made upon Soviet Russia by this government for the release of Americans, previous overtures having been carried on through neutral agencies.

MAHARG'S TALE BAD FOR CICOTTE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 27.—William "Billy" Maharg, the state's last witness in the Black Sox "scandal trial" today testified on the stand that he heard Eddie Cicotte tell Bill Burns that he and Chick Gandil were going to throw the 1919 world's series.

The alleged conversation between the former White Sox player and Burns took place, according to Maharg, at the Ansonia Hotel in New York shortly before the series.

Maharg's inside story of the bribery, double crossing and intrigue in connection with the throwing of the series was considered a strong card in the prosecution.

The state was expected to finish its case with Maharg's testimony today.

SHOWDOWN IN SHIPPING WAR

Expected to Come Thursday With Arguments on Injunction and Disclosure of Real Reason For Shipping Board's Action.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 27.—While both sides in the "shipping war" are busily tuning up their legal batteries today, the real reason for the United States Shipping Board seizing nine great trans-Atlantic liners allocated to the United States Mail Steamship Company remained in obscurity.

Shipping board officials in New York would assign no other reason for the seizures than the fact that the Mail line owed the board $400,000, nor would they indicate whether the action presaged a general seizure of ships from companies owing the board rental moneys.

Officials of the Mail line disclosed that they had offered to deposit $400,000 in escrow as a guarantee of good faith, but this offer, they said, had been turned down by the Shipping Board, which insisted that the fleet be turned over to the United American (Harriman) Line, a competitor.

It was further charged that the Harriman lines themselves owed the Shipping Board $7,000,000. Officials of the Harriman concern would neither confirm or deny this, referring inquiries to the Shipping Board.

Meanwhile, the Mail line will continue to operate the fleet under the injunction obtained from Justice Burr prohibiting the Shipping Board and the Harriman line from interference with the business of the Mail company. The injunction will come up tomorrow for decision as to whether it shall be made permanent, and both sides will have an imposing legal array in court.

A. D. Lasker, chairman of the board, and Elmer Schlessinger, general counsel, who are directing the board's activities in the fight, are in Washington today.

House Of David Team Here.

The House of David baseball team with bag and baggage, whiskers and all, were motoring in two big touring cars from Albany to Newburgh stopped on Wall street this morning about 10 o'clock and dined at the Advance restaurant. They were defeated Tuesday by the K. of C. team of Schenectady by a score of 14 to 6. Today they play the Newburgh team.

A Business Certificate.

A certificate under the assumed name business law has been filed at the office of the Ulster County Clerk by Louis Amdur, Jacob Siller and Isaac Farber all of 10 Meadow street, City of Kingston, that they are conducting a business at 10 Meadow street under the name and style the "Kingston Dressed Beef Company."

GRAND TEMPLE SECOND SESSION

Pythian Sisters of High Rank From Various Parts of Country Are Honored—Past Grand Chiefs Elect Officers.

Supreme Chief Minnie Bunting of the supreme temple of Pythian Sisters of the United States was given a rousing ovation when she attended the afternoon session of the grand temple of Pythian Sisters of the State of New York at the Elks' club house Tuesday afternoon.

In responding to the reception accorded her, Supreme Chief Bunting, who comes from Oklahoma, spoke in detail of the work which the Pythian Sisters throughout the United States are accomplishing and of the wonderful growth of the order.

Grand Temple honors also were accorded to Sister Otto, supreme representative of the state of Connecticut, and Past Grand Chief Sister Atwell of that state, who visited the grand temple during the afternoon.

A delegation was appointed to visit and exchange fraternal greetings with the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, and such delegation was composed of Mrs. Minnie Bunting, supreme chief, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Mrs. Lucy F. Munson, supreme junior, of Newburgh; Mrs. Florence Robinson, supreme representative, of Schenectady; Mrs. Ida Hiller, past grand chief, of Cobleskill; Mrs. Maggie Tibbals, past grand chief, of Kingston; Mrs. Lizzie Frerichs, grand mistress of records and correspondence, of Tottenville.

Most of the afternoon session was devoted to routine business.

At the close of the session of the grand temple, the annual meeting of the Past Grand Chiefs' Association was held. Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Lida E. Palmer, Brooklyn, president; Florence Robinson, Schnectady, first vice-president; Minnie G. Laux, Buffalo, second vice-president; Ida Hiller, Cobleskill, secretary; Minnie Ayers, Ballston Spa, treasurer.

Routine business was transacted.

ULSTER APPLES TO BRING HIGH PRICE

With a short apple crop throughout the country and an extremely short crop in New York state, Ulster county apple growers who have a good crop this year expect high prices. The Ulster county crop, as stated in The Freeman early in the season, is good in spots, but some of the spots that promised well earlier in the season now promise very little. One orchard not far from Kingston that, at blossom time, promised 2,000 barrels, was so injured by heavy rains at pollinating time that present indications are for a yield of not more than 200 barrels.

The extremely "spotty" yield is shown in two small adjoining orchards in Esopus that a Freeman man inspected a few days ago. Although set out at the same time, one will yield fully 85 per cent of last year's crop while the other will not exceed 20 per cent.

In the Wallkill Valley there is almost as great a variation. A. E. Jansen, south of New Paltz, expects 80 per cent of the 1920 crop, as does Philip DuBois, while other orchards in the New Paltz-Gardiner region will vary from 20 to 80 per cent, the average for the entire locality not exceeding 50 per cent.

Of course there will be the usual reports of apples rotting on the ground. These reports are regular and annual and true, but the apples are not of a quality for which there is a market, or else the orchards are located in inaccessible places or owned by persons who do not know how to pack and market the fruit.

A DAWES RECOMMENDATION

Carried Out by Order of the President.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 27.—President Harding today made effective one of the first economy measures recommended by Director of the Budget Dawes.

The president signed an executive order dividing the country in nine areas for the sale of surplus supplies of the government, with a sales director in each area. The order also provides for sectional purchasing by the government in the interest of economy.

Factory Wages a Little Off.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., July 27.—The weekly earnings of New York state factory workers are still decreasing, according to a report of the state department of labor. The average weekly wage is $25.71, a decrease of 15 cents since May. The reduction since last October amounts to $3.22, or 11 per cent. In figuring the decrease only wage reduction and loss or working time are considered. No account is taken of the loss of earnings from unemployment.

Greek-Turk Battle On.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Athens, July 27.—Greek forces are now engaged with the Turkish Nationalists 40 miles east of Eski-Shehr on the Anatolian battle front, said a dispatch from Smyrna today. The Greeks are only about 100 miles from Angora, the former Turkish Nationalist capital.

OBREGON ASKS WIDER POWERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, July 27.—President Obregon favors a policy of concession towards foreign oil companies, it was learned today. At a joint meeting of senators and deputies General Obregon proposed that a law be enacted by Congress giving the president extraordinary powers in oil matters. President Obregon said he believed that Article 27 of the constitution, governing foreign property rights, should be modified and this could best be done by giving the president wide powers to deal with matters falling under the law. The senators were willing to grant such powers but the deputies were opposed.

MARRIED 4 DAYS, ASKS ANNULMENT

N. Y. Chauffeur Induces 16-year-old Daughter Of Rich Marlborough Summer Resident To Wed Him—She Didn't Live With Him And Now Seeks To Annul Marriage.

On the application of attorneys for Victoria Candido, an infant, her father, Michael Candido, was appointed her guardian ad litem by Judge Hasbrouck Tuesday for the purpose of bringing an action to annul the marriage of Victoria to Louis Friedenson. The plaintiff lived with her father at Marlborough and is only 16 years of age and was induced by Louis Friedenson, a chauffeur in New York city to go to New York and a marriage ceremony was performed on July 22. The parties never lived together. After the ceremony, she returned to the home of her father and these proceedings are brought to annul the marriage. Candido has a beautiful summer home at Marlborough and is said to be very well to do. Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier are the attorneys for the Candidos.

REJECTS ABER BUS.

Newburgh's Aldermanic Body Refuse Him Permission.

Notwithstanding the threat of Attorney D. C. Dominick to compel the city council of Newburgh by a writ of mandamus to show cause why it should not grant permission of David G. Aber to operate a bus line between the city of Newburgh and Middletown, by way of Montgomery, the council refused to grant the application by a vote of four to one. It is thought probable that Attorney Dominick will attempt the mandamus proceedings.

In April Mr. Aber was granted permission by Kingston's common council to operate between Ellenville and this city and as he did not start operating until three months later, Van Kleeck Brothers, who also operate a line over that route, through their attorney, Chris J. Flanagan, asked the aldermen here to rescind the permission granted. At a meeting of the local bus committee recently it was stated by Aber's attorney that Aber was not operating over the Ellenville-Kingston route, and so no action was taken by the aldermen in the matter.

Unsatisfied.

MORRIS A. DRUCKER ELECTED GRAND CHANCELLOR OF N. Y. PYTHIANS

James K. O'Connor Becomes Grand Vice-Chancellor and Then Election is Halted Until Thursday Morning With Two Aspiring to Become Grand Prelate.

Today's business session of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was opened this morning with the ritualistic services in the Elks' Club where the sessions of the lodge are being held. Minutes of the preceding session of Tuesday were read and approved and the report of Grand Master of Exchequer Middaugh was read and referred.

Fraternal greetings by telegram were received and read from the Grand Domain of Massachusetts and from Amity Lodge of New York.

With the supreme chancellor presiding the election of officers was begun but owing to the memorial exercises at the First Dutch Reformed Church at 11 o'clock an adjournment was taken at that hour and the election of officers will be continued at the session Thursday morning.

Two supreme representatives were elected this morning, their term of office commencing January 1, 1922. Past Grand Chancellor John A. R. Kapps of Troy and Past Grand Chancellor Charles W. Endel of New York were unanimously elected.

Morris A. Drucker of Sioux, No. 357, of New York City was unanimously elected grand chancellor for the ensuing year.

The Hon. James K. O'Connor of Founder Rathbone, No. 290, Mayor of Utica was elected grand vice chancellor.

For the office of grand prelate to succeed Mr. O'Connor, there are two candidates, William J. Park of Buffalo and J. Frank Lackey of Onteora Lodge, No. 322, of Tannersville.

At this point the grand lodge went into recess, taking an adjournment until Thursday morning when the election will be continued.

WASHINGTON HAS JAPANESE REPLY

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, July 27.—The Japanese reply to President Harding's invitation to attend a conference on disarmament and Far Eastern policies was received by the state department today.

Secretary of State Hughes had not had an opportunity to read the communication at 10:30 this morning, and withheld all comment upon it.

Officials of the state department were confident, however, that the reply was enirely satisfactory and that Japan had agreed to sit as a member of the proposed conference without reservations.

DR. STONE DIED AIDING WIFE

President of Purdue University Killed While Climbing Peak In Canadian Rockies—Mrs. Stone Rescued and Has Good Chance of Recovery.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Banff, Alberta, July 27.—Alpine guides today have added a new story of heroism and hardship to the annals of the Canadian Rockies—an episode that cost the life of Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Prudue University, at Lafayete, Ind., and may result fatally to Mrs. Stone. Although only meagre details of the tragedy have been received here searchers said it was evident that Dr. Stone gave his life in an effort to rescue his wife.

The body of Dr. Stone was found at the foot of a deep crevice far up the slopes of Mount Manon on Sunday by guides who had been searching several days. Mrs. Stone, unconscious and badly injured, was found in another crevice nearby.

The guides brought Mrs. Stone to a temporary hospital at Mount Assiniboine, south of Banff. Doctors and nurses have been rushed to attend her. Chances for her recovery, it was said today, are good.

Dr. and Mrs. Stone both are experienced mountaineers and left Camp Assiniboine on July 17, provisioned for four days and with the intention of scaling Mount Manon, "the Matterhorn of the Rockies." When no word came from them after several days, searching parties were sent out.

According to reports here Mrs. Stone lost her footing on a steep slope and fell into a crevice. Her cries attracted Dr. Stone, who was some distance away and had not seen the fall. He attempted to pull her to to the surface by means of a rope but failed. He then lowered himself into the crevice and attempted to carry his wife to the surface.

In this attempt, it is said, Dr. Stone lost his footing, fell into a deeper crevice and was instantly killed. Mrs. Stone tumbled back into the first and shallower crevice and lay there until the guides found her.

EZRA MARKLE LOSES A LEG

Ezra Markle of The Spillway while at work in a hay field there Tuesday was badly injured when he became entangled in a hay mowing machine and had his foot cut off at the ankle. When he was picked up by others at work it was found that the foot was just hanging by a shred. He was rushed to the Kingston City Hospital where Dr. Frank A. Johnston, assisted by Drs. Stern and Quinlan found it necessary to amputate the leg just below the knee. Today Mr. Markle was reported as resting as comfortably as could be expected.

"REBECCA AT THE MILL" FEATURE OF FARM BUREAU PICNIC THIS YEAR

Although Many Problems Remain Unsolved, Committee Determines on Cider Production and Consumption at Forsyth Park on August 31, When Farmers and City Folks Will Hold Joint Outing.

Ignoring a suggestion that the picnic be held in Cuba, much of the time of the joint committee planning for the Farm Bureau picnic in Forsyth Park on August 31 was devoted Tuesday to planning for a plentiful and lawful supply of cider. Everything was reduced to terms of cider. The speakers will be selected for their capacity for drinking cider. The Refreshment Committee will dispense cider—"Rebecca at the Mill," instead of "Rebecca at the Well," will be the feature of the day. The chief duty of the Reception Committee will be to see that all visitors are shown the way to the cider mill. The Arrangements Committee will locate the mill and see that it is kept grinding and the Publicity Committee will devise means to inform the public of the impending flood of cider.

Needless to say, the cider will be of a kind that, should they attend the picnic, could be freely offered to and accepted by William J. Bryan, Congressman Volstead or William H. Anderson. In order to be certain of this, it will be made right on the spot.

The great problem confronting the committee is how much cider will be required—will there be 4,000 or 14,000 persons to supply—what will be the average cider capacity of those who attend. Out of these questions grow others, such as:

How many gallons of cider can be made quickly from a bushel of apples?

How many drinks in a gallon?

How much water may be added to the cider?

How many bushels of apples will be required?

How many mills to grind them?

Shall glasses or paper cups be used?

If paper cups, how many?

Will the sale of cider promote the sale of hot dogs?

Will the sale of hot dogs promote the sale of cider?

Leaving these questions all up in the air, the committee adjourned after E. W. Hathaway had agreed to mobilize the necessary battery, cohort, phalanx, squadron, or whatever the proper term is, of cider mills. President A. E. Jansen, of the Farm Bureau, had agreed to collect a sufficient number of truck-loads of apples reasonably free from codling moth (which is the scientific name for worms) and the Refreshment Committee had agreed to provide a sufficent number of "Rebeccas at the mill" to dispense the cider.

The committees in charge of the picnic, which is to be held under the joint auspices of the Farm and Home Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce, are as follows:

Executive Committee—E. W. Hathaway, chairman; W. C. DeWitt, Mrs. G. F. Rice, C. V. A. Decker, A. W. Hoffman, Roy M. Sutliff, representing the Chamber of Commerce; David Burgevin, John Saxe, A. E. Jansen, Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mrs. A. E. Jansen, M. H. Davis, representing the Farm and Home Bureau.

Sub-Committees.

Publicity—Roy M. Sutliff, chairman; E. L. Chase, Sydney D. M. Hudson, John Saxe, Miss L. M. Stuart.

Arrangements Committee (to have charge of grounds, parking and general arrangements)—A. E. Jansen, chairman; David Burgevin, S. M. Watts, Chester Young.

Speakers' Committee (to secure one prominent speaker for the chief address)—David Burgevin, chairman; Philip Elting, Martin Cantine.

Refreshments Committee (to have charge of privileges in connection with the sale of refreshments)—Mrs. W. A. Warren, chairman; Mrs. Frank Thompson, M. H. Davis, Mrs. W. E. Simmons, Mrs. A. E. Jansen, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. G. F. Rice.

Program and Reception Committee (to have charge of program of the events, and also to have charge of reception of those attending picnic)—W. C. DeWitt, chairman; C. V. A. Decker, H. M. Epps, A. W. Buley, W. H. Van Valkenburg, W. A. Warren, Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mrs. G. F. Rice.

Crowded Him Off Road.

William Winnie of Partition street, Saugerties, suffered a deep gash above his eye in a motorcycle accident near Blue Mountain, the other evening. Winnie was driving his motorcycle with sidecar attached in which his wife was seated, and as they were rounding one of the sharp curves of the Blue Mountain road, a Ford came along at high speed and crowded the motorcycle into the ditch, and it overturned throwing Mr. and Mrs. Winnie out, and the wound he received required three stitches to close. The Ford driver never stopped and his identity is unknown.

Reject Bus Lines.

Bus line franchise applications were the center of discussion in a session of little other business held by the common council of Middletown Monday night. The aldermen, after a hearing, rejected the requests of George Sammond to operate a line from Middletown to Ellenville, and later turned down a similar application of Addison C. Raines.

DEMANDS SOVIETS FREE AMERICANS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 27.—The United States has made new demands upon Soviet Russia for the immediate release of American citizens who are now held prisoners in Russia, it was learned at the state department today.

The note of this government voicing the demands has been dispatched to the American consular agent at Reval to be handed to the soviet representative there for communication to his government.

This is understood to be the first direct demand made upon Soviet Russia by this government for the release of Americans, previous overtures having been carried on through neutral agencies.

MAHARG'S TALE BAD FOR CICOTTE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 27.—William "Billy" Maharg, the state's last witness in the Black Sox "scandal trial" today testified on the stand that he heard Eddie Cicotte tell Bill Burns that he and Chick Gandil were going to throw the 1919 world's series.

The alleged conversation between the former White Sox player and Burns took place, according to Maharg, at the Ansonia Hotel in New York shortly before the series.

Maharg's inside story of the bribery, double crossing and intrigue in connection with the throwing of the series was considered a strong card in the prosecution.

The state was expected to finish its case with Maharg's testimony today.

SHOWDOWN IN SHIPPING WAR

Expected to Come Thursday With Arguments on Injunction and Disclosure of Real Reason For Shipping Board's Action.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 27.—While both sides in the "shipping war" are busily tuning up their legal batteries today, the real reason for the United States Shipping Board seizing nine great trans-Atlantic liners allocated to the United States Mail Steamship Company remained in obscurity.

Shipping board officials in New York would assign no other reason for the seizures than the fact that the Mail line owed the board $400,000, nor would they indicate whether the action presaged a general seizure of ships from companies owing the board rental moneys.

Officials of the Mail line disclosed that they had offered to deposit $400,000 in escrow as a guarantee of good faith, but this offer, they said, had been turned down by the Shipping Board, which insisted that the fleet be turned over to the United American (Harriman) Line, a competitor.

It was further charged that the Harriman lines themselves owed the Shipping Board $7,000,000. Officials of the Harriman concern would neither confirm or deny this, referring inquiries to the Shipping Board.

Meanwhile, the Mail line will continue to operate the fleet under the injunction obtained from Justice Burr prohibiting the Shipping Board and the Harriman line from interference with the business of the Mail company. The injunction will come up tomorrow for decision as to whether it shall be made permanent, and both sides will have an imposing legal array in court.

A. D. Lasker, chairman of the board, and Elmer Schlesinger, general counsel, who are directing the board's activities in the fight, are in Washington today.

House of David Team Here.

The House of David baseball team with box and baggage, whiskers and all, were motoring in two big touring cars from Albany to Newburgh stopped on Wall street this morning about 10 o'clock and dined at the Advance restaurant. They were defeated Tuesday by the K. of C. team of Schenectady by a score of 14 to 6. Today they play the Newburgh team.

A Business Certificate.

A certificate under the assumed name business law has been filed at the office of the Ulster County Clerk by Louis Ander, Jacob Siller and Isaac Farber all of 16 Meadow street, City of Kingston, that they are conducting a business at 16 Meadow street under the name and style the "Kingston Dressed Beef Company."

GRAND TEMPLE SECOND SESSION

Pythian Sisters of High Rank From Various Parts of Country Are Honored—Past Grand Chiefs Elect Officers.

Supreme Chief Minnie Bunting of the supreme temple of Pythian Sisters of the United States was given a rousing ovation when she attended the afternoon session of the grand temple of Pythian Sisters of the State of New York at the Elks' club house Tuesday afternoon.

In responding to the reception accorded her, Supreme Chief Bunting, who comes from Oklahoma, spoke in detail of the work which the Pythian Sisters throughout the United States are accomplishing and of the wonderful growth of the order.

Grand Temple honors also were accorded to Sister Otto, supreme representative of the state of Connecticut, and Past Grand Chief Sister Atwell of that state, who visited the grand temple during the afternoon.

A delegation was appointed to visit and exchange fraternal greetings with the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, and such delegation was composed of Mrs. Minnie Bunting, supreme chief, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Mrs. Lucy F. Munson, supreme junior, of Newburgh; Mrs. Florence Robinson, supreme representative, of Schenectady; Mrs. Ida Hiller, past grand chief, of Cobleskill; Mrs. Maggie Tibbals, past grand chief, of Kingston; Mrs. Lizzie Frerichs, grand mistress of records and correspondence, of Tottenville.

Most of the afternoon session was devoted to routine business.

At the close of the session of the grand temple, the annual meeting of the Past Grand Chiefs' Association was held. Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Lida E. Palmer, Brooklyn, president; Florence Robinson, Schnectady, first vice-president; Minnie G. Laux, Buffalo, second vice-president; Ida Hiller, Cobleskill, secretary; Minnie Ayers, Ballston Spa, treasurer.

Routine business was transacted.

ULSTER APPLES TO BRING HIGH PRICE

With a short apple crop throughout the country and an extremely short crop in New York state, Ulster county apple growers who have a good crop this year expect high prices. The Ulster county crop, as stated in The Freeman early in the season, is good in spots, but some of the spots that promised well earlier in the season now promise very little. One orchard not far from Kingston that, at blossom time, promised 2,000 barrels, was so injured by heavy rains at pollinating time that present indications are for a yield of not more than 200 barrels.

The extremely "spotty" yield is shown in two small adjoining orchards in Esopus that a Freeman man inspected a few days ago. Although set out at the same time, one will yield fully 85 per cent of last year's crop while the other will not exceed 20 per cent.

In the Wallkill Valley there is almost as great a variation. A. E. Jansen, south of New Paltz, expects 80 per cent of the 1920 crop, as does Philip DuBois, while other orchards in the New Paltz-Gardiner region will vary from 20 to 80 per cent, the average for the entire locality not exceeding 50 per cent.

Of course there will be the usual reports of apples rotting on the ground. These reports are regular and annual and true, but the apples are not of a quality for which there is a market, or else the orchards are located in inaccessible places or owned by persons who do not know how to pack and market the fruit.

A DAWES RECOMMENDATION

Carried Out by Order of the President.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 27.—President Harding today made effective one of the first economy measures recommended by Director of the Budget Dawes.

The president signed an executive order dividing the country in nine areas for the sale of surplus supplies of the government, with a sales director in each area. The order also provides for sectional purchasing by the government in the interest of economy.

Factory Wages a Little Off.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., July 27.—The weekly earnings of New York state factory workers are still decreasing, according to a report of the state department of labor. The average weekly wage is $25.71, a decrease of 15 cents since May. The reduction since last October amounts to $3.22, or 11 per cent. In figuring the decrease only wage reduction and loss of working time are considered. No account is taken of the loss of earnings from unemployment.

Greek-Turk Battle On.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Athens, July 27.—Greek forces are now engaged with the Turkish Nationalists 40 miles east of Eskishehir on the Anatolian battle front, said a dispatch from Smyrna today. The Greeks are only about 100 miles from Angora, the former Turkish Nationalist capital.

OBREGON ASKS WIDER POWERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, July 27.—President Obregon favors a policy of concession towards foreign oil companies, it was learned today. At a joint meeting of senators and deputies General Obregon proposed that a law be enacted by Congress giving the president extraordinary powers in oil matters. President Obregon said he believed that Article 27 of the constitution, governing foreign property rights, should be modified and this could best be done by giving the president wide powers to deal with matters falling under the law. The senators were willing to grant such powers but the deputies were opposed.

MARRIED 4 DAYS, ASKS ANNULMENT

N. Y. Chauffeur Induces 16-year-old Daughter Of Rich Marlborough Summer Resident To Wed Him—She Didn't Live With Him And Now Seeks To Annul Marriage.

On the application of attorneys for Victoria Candido, an infant, her father, Michael Candido, was appointed her guardian ad litem by Judge Hasbrouck Tuesday for the purpose of bringing an action to annul the marriage of Victoria to Louis Friedenson. The plaintiff lived with her father at Marlborough and is only 16 years of age and was induced by Louis Friedenson, a chauffeur in New York city to go to New York and a marriage ceremony was performed on July 22. The parties never lived together. After the ceremony, she returned to the home of her father and these proceedings are brought to annul the marriage. Candido has a beautiful summer home at Marlborough and is said to be very well to do. Brinnier, Canfield & Driscoll are the attorneys for the Candidos.

REJECTS ABER BUS.

Newburgh's Aldermanic Body Refuses Him Permission.

Notwithstanding the threat of Attorney D. C. Dominick to compel the city council of Newburgh by a writ of mandamus to show cause why it should not grant permission of David G. Aber to operate a bus line between the city of Newburgh and Middletown by way of Montgomery, the council refused to grant the application by a vote of four to one. It is thought probable that Attorney Dominick will attempt the mandamus proceedings.

In April Mr. Aber was granted permission by Kingston's common council to operate between Ellenville and this city and as he did not start operations until three months later Van Kleeck Brothers who also operate a line over that route, through their attorney, Chas J. Flanagan, asked the aldermen here to rescind the permission granted. At a meeting of the local bus committee recently it was stated by Aber's attorney that Aber was not operating over the Ellenville-Kingston route, and so no action was taken by the aldermen in the matter.

MORRIS A. DRUCKER ELECTED GRAND CHANCELLOR OF N. Y. PYTHIANS

James K. O'Connor Becomes Grand Vice-Chancellor and Then Election is Halted Until Thursday Morning With Two Aspiring to Become Grand Prelate.

Today's business session of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was opened this morning with the ritualistic services in the Elks' Club where the sessions of the lodge are being held. Minutes of the preceding session of Tuesday were read and approved and the report of Grand Master of Exchequer Middaugh was read and referred.

Fraternal greetings by telegram were received and read from the Grand Domain of Massachusetts and from Amity Lodge of New York.

With the supreme chancellor presiding the election of officers was begun but owing to the memorial exercises at the First Dutch Reformed Church at 11 o'clock an adjournment was taken at that hour and the election of officers will be continued at the session Thursday morning.

Two supreme representatives were elected this morning, their term of office commencing January 1, 1922. Past Grand Chancellor John A. R. Kopps of Troy and Past Grand Chancellor Charles W. Endel of New York were unanimously elected.

Morris A. Drucker of Sioux, No. 357, of New York City was unanimously elected grand chancellor for the ensuing year.

The Hon. James K. O'Connor of Founder Rathbone, No. 290, Mayor of Utica was elected grand vice chancellor.

For the office of grand prelate to succeed Mr. O'Connor, there are two candidates, William J. Park of Buffalo and J. Frank Lackey of Onteora Lodge, No. 322, of Tannersville.

At this point the grand lodge went into recess, taking an adjournment until Thursday morning when the election will be continued.

WASHINGTON HAS JAPANESE REPLY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 27.—The Japanese reply to President Harding's invitation to attend a conference on disarmament and Far Eastern policies was received by the state department today.

Secretary of State Hughes had not had an opportunity to read the communication at 10:30 this morning, and withheld all comment upon it.

Officials of the state department were confident, however, that the reply was entirely satisfactory and that Japan had agreed to sit as a member of the proposed conference without reservations.

DR. STONE DIED AIDING WIFE

President of Purdue University Killed While Climbing Peak In Canadian Rockies—Mrs. Stone Rescued and Has Good Chance of Recovery.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Banff, Alberta, July 27.—Alpine guides today have added a new story of heroism and hardship to the annals of the Canadian Rockies—an episode that cost the life of Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue University, at Lafayette, Ind., and may result fatally to Mrs. Stone. Although only meagre details of the tragedy have been received here searchers said it was evident that Dr. Stone gave his life in an effort to rescue his wife.

The body of Dr. Stone was found at the foot of a deep crevice far up the slopes of Mount Manon on Sunday by guides who had been searching several days. Mrs. Stone, unconscious and badly injured, was found in another crevice nearby.

The guides brought Mrs. Stone to a temporary hospital at Mount Assiniboine, south of Banff. Doctors and nurses have been rushed to attend her. Chances for her recovery, it was said today, are good.

Dr. and Mrs. Stone both are experienced mountaineers and left Camp Assiniboine on July 17, provisioned for four days and with the intention of scaling Mount Manon, "the Matterhorn of the Rockies." When no word came from them after several days, searching parties were sent out.

According to reports here Mrs. Stone lost her footing on a steep slope and fell into a crevice. Her cries attracted Dr. Stone, who was some distance away and had not seen the fall. He attempted to pull her to the surface by means of a rope but failed. He then lowered himself into the crevice and attempted to carry his wife to the surface.

In this attempt, it is said, Dr. Stone lost his footing, fell into a deeper crevice and was instantly killed. Mrs. Stone tumbled back into the first and shallower crevice and lay there until the guides found her.

EZRA MARKLE LOSES A LEG

Ezra Markle of The Spillway while at work in a hay field there Tuesday was badly injured when he became entangled in a hay mowing machine and had his foot cut off at the ankle. When he was picked up by others at work it was found that the foot was just hanging by a shred. He was rushed to the Kingston City Hospital where Dr. Frank A. Johnston, assisted by Drs. Stern and Quinlan found it necessary to amputate the leg just below the knee. Today Mr. Markle was reported as resting as comfortably as could be expected.

SCHIRICK MAY RUN FOR MAYOR

Democratic City Judge Expected to Head City Ticket This Fall—Thomas F. Coughlin to be Candidate for City Judge—Democrats Meet Next Week.

City Judge Harry E. Schirick is expected to head the Democratic city ticket for the office of mayor this fall, while Thomas F. Coughlin, commander of Kingston Post of the American Legion, is expected to be the party's candidate for the office of city judge. As yet they have not selected the "victim" to run for the office of alderman-at-large.

Monday evening the Democrats held a pow-wow in the city court room at the city hall, as related in Tuesday's Freeman, which was attended by the "regulars." Former Mayor Roscoe Irwin presided at the session, which was an executive one, and which lasted until a late hour, and the entire session was devoted to talk of the mayoralty contest and the prospects of landing a Democrat in the mayor's chair this fall.

The fact was brought out that all present were of the opinion that the only Democrat strong enough to lead a forlorn hope on the Republican bulwarks was City Judge Schirick, and according to the Democrats who expressed their opinion at the meeting he stood more of a prospect of winning, according to them, than of any other candidate they could select.

Judge Schirick, who was present, sat through the entire session without saying a word, and what his own personal opinion was in the matter, or whether he would accept or decline the nomination he did not make known.

The meeting that evening was a get-together session called by Mr. Irwin who will be prominent in Democratic politics this fall, and who will hold the reins in the city election as well, to talk over the local situation, and get the views of the ward leaders of the party

From what could be learned Thomas F. Coughlin, who is one of the younger members of the Ulster county bar, is to again be a candidate and will seek the office of city judge.

The Democrats expect to encounter no considerable difficulty in inducing Judge Schirick to accept the "honor" and sacrifice himself for the benefit of the party.

The session closed with the announcement that a "convention" would be held in the council chambers at the city hall some time next week.

As the Democrats have always waited until the Republicans named a ticket before meeting it is likely that the Democratic "convention" will be held after the Republicans have met at which time Mr. Irwin will inform the other members of the party as to who he has selected to run for the various offices, including mayor and city judge.

Attention!

To whomever it may concern in this city, greetings:

In Marion, Ind., the price of ice cream sodas has been reduced from 15 to 10 cents.

In Bridgeport, O., the price of ice cream has been cut to 35 cents a quart.

In Batesville, Ind., a chicken dinner may be had for 30 cents.

Others please copy.

Some Rattler.

Recently a Kingston man bought a second-hand car of a "light and popular brand," as Abe Martin would say. In a few weeks he discovered that it was a cripple on four wheels instead of a pleasure vehicle he expected. He was describing to us some of its numerous ailments.

"I rather think then," commented his friend, sympathetically, "that she rattles quite a bit when you drive her?"

"Rattles!" he exclaimed. "Why, dammit, she sounds like a skeleton having a congestive chill on a tin roof!"

Financially, Grover Bergdoll is worth half a million. In the eyes of the public, however, he isn't worth a tinker's darn.

A man was saying yesterday over at the Elks' Club as how, that he were not married, and that he had almost made up his mind that if he was married that there is a time when you could call a girl a little dear. Just about this time two of the "dear things" passed going toward the post office and another feller replied that by the way they dress nowadays it would be more appropriate to call her a little bare.

King Solomon and King David,
Led merry, merry lives,
With many, many lady friends,
And many, many wives.
But when old age crept over them
With many, many qualms,
King Solomon wrote the Proverbs
And King David wrote the Psalms.

Over here money talks. Over in Germany money balks.

Gosh.

Cheer up. Your troubles are all imaginary! Just read this from the Connersville, Ind., News Examiner: "This country is not dry, it never has been dry, and you won't live to see the day when it will be dry."

Must Be Bull.

Have you ever observed that it makes a liar just as mad to be called a liar as it does an honest man?

WARWARSING.

Wawarsing, July 27.—Mrs. Mame Hendrickson of Bayonne, N. J., visited her sister, Mrs. Eugene Geary, a few days recently.

George Stahl has purchased a new car.

Mrs. Lee and daughter of Poughkeepsie spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. David Johnson.

Don't forget the date of the Wawarsing fair, Thursday evening, August 11.

Miss Olive Sherman of Kerhonkson spent the past week with her sister, Mrs. Gordon Churchwell.

S. Van Leuven and son have invested in a new threshing machine.

Mrs. Hardenburg, who has been seriously ill at her home, has been removed to Rest-a-While Sanatorium at Napanoch.

Miss Irene Kidney of Napanoch visited her sister, Mrs. Raymond Gary.

Lillian and Arthur Geary spent the week end in New Paltz and vicinity.

SHANDAKEN.

Shandaken, July 27.—The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a variety supper at the church hall on Friday evening, July 29. Supper will be served, beginning at 5:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Kathryn Riseley of Elizabeth, N. J., is spending her vacation with her father, Edmund Riseley.

The Rev. L. Heacock, who has been pastor of the M. E. Church here, expects to be transferred to Ohio, and will leave here August 1. The Rev. R. E. Greenwell of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., will occupy the pulpits of the churches on this charge from August 1 to September 1.

Miss Georgie Lenhart and her friend of New York have been spending their vacation at C. H. Lenhart's.

MARLBOROUGH.

Marlborough, July 26.—Mrs. Herbert Schoonmaker left Friday night for a trip south accompanied by her niece, Miss Fannie Elmendorf, of Briarcliff, N. Y. They will visit Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore. They will also visit several days with relatives at Urbanna, Va., when they will have an opportunity for bathing in the Rappahannock river which they will enjoy very much for they are both "fans" on swimming.

BOLT CAN'T KEEP WHISPELL AWAY

Al. Whispell, proprietor of the Phoenicia Hotel at Phoenicia, which was struck by lightning during the storm at that place Tuesday afternoon, was in town today, unstruck and unharmed, and ready to join fellow Knights of Pythias in the Pythian parade this evening.

Mr. Whispell had a narrow escape from being struck, but he saw the lightning coming and judged where it would strike. Therefore he moved quickly. The lightning bolt evidently tried to follow Mr. Whispell, but its speed prevented it from turning as quickly as Mr. Whispell, with the result that it struck only a corner of the cornice, knocking some boards loose and splintering a small part of the woodwork. After striking the house, the bolt disappeared. Mr. Whispell did not have time to look for it because he was busy counting the trout which he had caught during the morning near the hotel. From an examination of the hotel, however, he could not see that any damage had been done by the lightning.

Lightning has struck in the vicinity of Phoenicia several times in recent years, but generally the only damage has been to some tall tree on nearby hillsides. Up to about two years ago lightning used to strike in Phoenicia quite often, but since then there has been such a noticeable scarcity of bolts that residents not only keep track of them but look for the coming with pleasure.

During Tuesday's storm a ball of fire seemed to enter the house of Charles M. Clark, where preparations were under way for the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society this afternoon. It caused a stinging sensation in the arms and hands of one of the members of the family but apparently no damage resulted from it.

Mr. Whispell's many friends in Kingston, who have enjoyed his famous trout dinners, hope that he will stay in Kingston for the remainder of the Pythian convention at least.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

John Young of Philadelphia is visiting his friend William Franklin Freer in this city for a few days.

Miss Elsie Riehl and mother, of Easton, Pa., are visiting the former's aunt, Mrs. John L. Hoffman, of 632 Broadway.

LIGGETT HIT BY STOCK SLUMP

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Boston, July 27.—Louis K. Liggett, president of the United Drug Company, former president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, reputed to be a millionaire, today placed his assets in the hands of a trustee.

This action was taken, according to a statement issued by Attorney Frederick C. Snow, because of the decline in the market value of United Drug Company common stock in the last 24 hours.

The stock has dropped approximately 30 points this week, going down about 20 points today when it sold at a record low price for both common and preferred.

FRIDAY SET FOR SINN FEIN REPLY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 27.—With the Sinn Fein chieftains conferring among themselves in secret at Dublin, the opinion was advanced in semi-official circles today that Premier Lloyd-George will not receive a formal reply to his peace offer from Eamonn De Valera until Friday.

It will then be necessary to communicate with the Unionist government at Belfast.

If conditions are such that a general Irish peace parley can be held in London it probably will open during the first ten days of August. De Valera, Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and the other members of the Sinn Fein cabinet at Dublin, who have been conferring daily since Sunday have maintained the utmost secrecy and have given no intimation as to their decision.

British officials are hopeful the Sinn Feiners will adopt a conciliatory attitude now that they have given up their demand for an Irish Republic. It is believed that the Irish will not insist upon their right to maintain an army and navy but will content themselves with an Irish police force.

The Unionists of South Ireland, who are already in accord with the Republicans, have been carrying on conversations with the Ulster Unionists and there seems to be ground for belief that they have reached an agreement of some kind.

If the negotiations work out to a satisfactory conclusion and the general peace parley is held to work out a final agreement upon the basis of dominion home rule for Ireland, it is probable that parliament will take the month of December to debate and ratify the solution.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Short-Cramer.

Percy Short of Saugerties and Miss Clarissa N. Cramer of No. 132 East Chester street were quietly married at the parsonage of the Reformed Church of the Comforter on Tuesday afternoon, July 26, by the Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe. They were attended by Miss Florence M. Diamond and Donald L. Cramer, a brother of the bride. After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Short will be at home in Saugerties.

Merwin-Doughty.

Miss Emily Doughty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Doughty of Poughkeepsie, was quietly married to Clayton Merwin of Kingston at the bride's home, 12 DuBois avenue, Tuesday at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Charles Alexander Ross, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Poughkeepsie, officiated. Miss Dorothy Doughty, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and William Doughty acted as best man. The young couple left immediately to spend their honeymoon in the Catskill mountains. Miss Catherine Donaldson of Fox street gave a shower in honor of Miss Doughty recently and the bride was the recipient of many useful and pretty gifts. Those attending the party included Mrs. J. Alverson, Mrs. F. Weed, Mary Dykeman, Mattie Pollein, Mrs. L. Donaldson, Mrs. M. Williams, Irene Donaldson, Catherine Donaldson and Mrs. Merwin. Mr. and Mrs. Merwin will make their home in Chichester, where the groom is in business.

ODDS AND ENDS.

During the rain storm Tuesday afternoon an automobile driven by Peter Augustine on Broadway skidded near Downs street and collided with a wagon. The wagon was somewhat damaged but no one was hurt.

PHOENICIA CENTER OF BIG STORM

Phoenicia and vicinity was visited by one of the most severe electric storms in years on Tuesday afternoon and for a few minutes the rain fell as though from a cloudburst. Within a few minutes the streams in the neighborhood which have been low for the past several weeks raised to an alarming height. During the height of the storm the porch of the Central Hotel at Phoenicia was struck by lightning but fortunately Al. Whispell's popular hotel escaped serious damage.

To add to the situation hundreds of automobiles were held up when one of Philips's big automobile trucks went through one of the small bridges on the detour made necessary by the replanking of the main bridge at Phoenicia. Before the truck could be released and repairs made to the bridge there was a long line of cars on both sides of the bridge waiting to cross. Ray Craft who had been delivering a load of groceries to the mountain resorts was held up from about 12 o'clock until 6 before his big White delivery car could cross.

Pine Hill was the limit of the storm in that direction and the upper end of that village escaped with no rain while the lower end received a gentle shower. From Pine Hill east the storm increased with Phoenicia as the storm center. A light rain fell in Kingston.

There were numerous washouts on the roads and several large trees were blown down making traveling dangerous until the roads had been cleared.

TROOPERS SEIZE ASSORTED BOOZE

Mulford's Hotel At Saugerties Scene Of Latest Raid And Astonishing Array of Jugs And Bottles Is Added To Sheriff's Already Complete Stock—Crotty Freed On Technicality.

Some time during Tuesday night State Trooper Charles A. Roche of Sidney, N. Y., and a number of state troopers armed with a search warrant issued by County Judge Fowler visited Mulford's Hotel, owned by Charles Mulford, situate in the village of Saugerties and seized a quantity of liquors and wine under the Mullan-Gage act. The return and receipt for the goods given by the sheriff to whom the goods seized were placed in charge shows that two gallons of wine were taken from a sealed barrel also 35 bottles of different liquids and wine. The list embraces orange bitters, port wine, White seal, Millshire whiskey, St. Croix rum, Pale table ale, prato, burgundy, sauterne, Underberg bitters, kummel, sherry, Juliene, Arrac, two bottles champagne, two bottles Vermouth, one and half bottles left in the cellar, Bon Carlos rum, Zanfadiel, absinthe, curacao, two bottles Italian Asto, 13 bottles Lash's bitters, four bottles stomach bitters, Angostura bitters, creme de menthe, apricot cordial, bottle alcohol, gallon bottle of wine, glass jar of home brew, two bottles of home brew. The return of the seizure on the search warrant is returnable before Justice of the Peace Chidester on August 10th.

It is said that a search warrant had also been issued by Judge Fowler to State Trooper Charles A. Roche and that after a search by him and troopers of Schoentag's Hotel, on the Saugerties-Kingston road nothing was found, according to the return.

On July 16 the hotel of John Zeilman at Malden was visited by State Trooper Milton F. Nurenberg and other troopers on a search warrant and according to the receipt for the goods seized which were turned over to the sheriff named in the return were the following: One keg hard cider, three-quarter jug creme de menthe, red wine, benedictine, Bernice liquor, port wine, Tokay, burgundy, absinthe, Hoko Vino, orange bitters, mixed wine, maraschino, cocktail bitters, creme re rosa, creme de coca. The return of the seizure is returnable before Justice of the Peace Chidester on August 10th.

State troopers also made a seizure at the hotel of John Crottyn at Veteran on the Saugerties-Woodstock road. A hearing was had soon afterward before Justice of the Peace Chidester and William D. Brinnier appeared as attorney for Crotty, who raised the question that the information on which the search warrant was issued was defective, which point of objection was sustained and on motion of Mr. Brinnier Mr. Crotty was discharged. One of the boarders at the Crotty Hotel claimed that a bottle of liquor seized was his property and had been purchased by him and used as medicine.

FIGHT FILM MOVERS FINED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 27.—"Tex" Rickard, promoter of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, was fined $1,000 today by Federal Judge Sheppard for bringing films of the fight from New Jersey to New York in violation of the federal statute which prohibits interstate traffic in prize fight films. F. C. Quimby, a picture promoter, was similarly fined. Both pleaded guilty.

Coney Island Pythians Here.

Forty-one members of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, of Coney Island, are in town today for the big Pythian parade tonight. They came to Kingston through the courtesy of Grand Inner Guard Dreese, who is known as the Pythian King of Coney Island, and are delighted with their trip and with Kingston.

GIRL DROWNS AT HIGHLAND

Gertrude Benson, 15-year-old daughter of Lawrence Benson of Highland, was drowned in the Hudson river a few hundred feet above the dock of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company at Highland, at 8:15 o'clock, Tuesday night, while swimming with several other younger children. Two small boys attempted to save her but their efforts were unsuccessful and the girl did not again come to the surface after going down for the third time. Her body later was recovered.

She was drowned in water only seven feet deep. It is the theory that she became fangled in the eel grass which grows luxuriantly at the bottom of the river at the point where she was drowned. It is thought also, that she caught a cramp at the time she called for help. The little girl has been in the habit of going in swimming every evening in company with other children who live in the neighborhood.

Benson is a section foreman on the West Shore railroad at Milton. He and his daughter lived near the ferry slip in the house of a family by the name of Cawley. He was notified of his daughter's drowning soon after it occurred.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 27.—United Drug was again very weak in the early trading on the stock exchange today, falling 5¼ points to 69. Otherwise the undertone of the market was firm. United States Steel advanced ½ to 73½. Baldwin Locomotive rose ⅝ to 78¾. United States Rubber gained ¼ to 53⅜. Republic Steel advanced ⅛ to 46. Mexican Petroleum, after opening unchanged at 103¾, moved up to 104½. General Asphalt rose ¼ to 50¼. Central Leather declined ½ to 34½. Pacific Oil rose ⅛ to 35. Studebaker declined ½ to 76½. Pierce Arrow was off ½ to 16¾. Rock Island declined ¼ to 32⅝ and Union Pacific advanced ¼ to 120⅝.

The feature of the market after the opening was the development of weakness in half a dozen specialties, the prices of those stocks declining sharply. The market leaders held firm.

The market in the afternoon trading was confused in its tone and movements. The announcement of the appointment of trustees for Louis K. Liggett, of the United Drug Company, and the statement that his affairs alone are involved, was followed by a rally in United Drugs from 54 to 59½, but the gain was lost later when it fell to 56.

The market closed heavy; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

KELLY MADE HIS BUSINESS GROW

Ernest A. Kelly of the Archie Winter Express Company shared the deep dark secrets of the baggage express business with his fellow Rotarians at their noonday luncheon on Wednesday, and proved a most entertaining talker. Mr. Kelly told how he bought a run down business and built it up by giving service and meeting emergencies. Starting with a second hand Ford truck, he soon bought another somewhat passe vehicle of the same well known make and is now operating four good Ford trucks, meeting trains and boats, carrying baggage and light freight and brushing away the troubles of travellers who become separated from their baggage. Specific instances illustrating various problems encountered were related in an amusing way and the applause at the ending of the speech was louder than at the beginning.

Of course the speech was preceded by the Rotarians singing "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" and the five minutes remaining after the speech were devoted to singing "Lulu," "John Brown's Body" and other serious musical compositions.

Price Free On Bail.

Frank L. Price, who is still awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree, was admitted to bail in $500 by County Judge Fowler today. The Rev. Martin F. Mahon of Schenectady was the bondsman. Price was arrested in Schenectady a few weeks ago by Police Justice Henry E. McKenzie of Fort Ewen on complaint of Patrick Baldwin. The charge rose out of an automobile.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity

The many loving friends of Mary Tolley who died Sunday morning completely filled the beautiful little funeral chapel of A. Carr and Son on Tuesday evening, to pay to her their last public tribute. The casket was completely covered with exquisite flowers, though all flowers were loved by her to whom for so many years, the hands of little children brought the first spring blossom, summer blooms and autumn leaves. The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church where Mary Tolley had been such a devoted member, officiated at the service and his exquisite tribute to this wonderful woman, was that of a personal friend. Dr. Seeley read a prayer which was found on the little table where the telephone over which Miss Tolley made her calls on friends since her accident stood, and then reminded the friends of Mary Tolley's passionate love for, understanding of and patience with little children. When one stops to think of the literally thousands of young lives that were beneficially influenced by the marvelous guidance of this friend of little children, one realizes that that is the eternal memorial and monument of this life of love, for Dr. Seeley made it plain that love of her God, of her Christ, of childish and mature friends was the crowning glory of her womanhood. He said she had won the victory of those graces which are attained only through faith in God and Christ. The burial service was held at Hudson where is the Tolley family burying plot.

Edgar Elsworth of St. Remy, who until recently had enjoyed good health, died suddenly at his home at 10 o'clock Saturday night, July 23. Mr. Elsworth was of Holland descent, a son of Daniel Elsworth, who during his life was one of the leading citizens of Ulster county. The deceased, early in life, became a member of the Reformed Church at Dashville and later in life he became an active officer both as deacon first, then as elder, which office he held till he changed his place of residence and at once associated himself with the Reformed Church in St. Remy. His ability as a leader and safe counselor was soon recognized and he was chosen an elder in that church, and also served as clerk of consistory. In these offices he served that church for more than fifteen years and was still active in office and in church work up till the time of his death. He was assistant superintendent of the Dupont Powder Company's works at Rifton for nineteen years until that business was abandoned. He attended the same district school which was attended by his father, viz: The Swartekill School, District No. 7, at Rifton. Like his father and grandfather he loved to read and while his educational advantages were limited, he made use of every opportunity to improve his mind, and consequently became a well informed man. Because of his honest and upright Christian character he was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Mr. Elsworth was a Republican in politics, although locally he always voted for the best candidate. To mourn his loss he leaves his wife, who is superintendent of the home missions of the Ulster County Sunday School Association and secretary of the Women's Classical Missionary Union of the Classis of Kingston, and one son, Henry S. Elsworth, now in the employ of Brown & Dressel on Clinton avenue, Kingston. The funeral services were held at his late residence on Tuesday afternoon, July 26, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Leonard Appeldoorn of Port Ewen conducted the services and delivered the sermon. He was assisted by the Rev. F. B. Seeley of Kingston, and Mr. Raschke, also of Kingston. The floral tributes presented by the Junior Order American Mechanics, the Knights of Pythias, the Independent Order of Red Men, all of which Mr. Elsworth was a member, and the many relatives and friends, were numerous and beautiful. Mrs. Charles Schwab presided at the piano and sang very impressively "Abide With Me" and "Face to Face." Interment was in the family plot in the St. Remy Cemetery.

(Written by a Former Comrade.)

Funeral services were held for Corporal Ambrose C. Ronk July 18 at the M. E. Church at Modena under the direction of Lloyd Post, American Legion, with the Legion Post of New Paltz furnishing the firing squad. A patriotic and impressive sermon was preached by the pastor of the church to a large gathering of friends, neighbors and comrades and the usual Legion ritualistic service was gone through at the grave. Floral tributes were as follows: pillows from wife and daughter; standing cross from mother; wreaths from sister and brothers, Aunt Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Byrne, Albert Monaco, J. O. U. A. M.; flat bouquets from Byron Paltridge and Mr. and Mrs. William Crawshaw. Ambrose C. Ronk was called to the colors on November 22, 1917, from the 3rd Ulster district, arriving at Camp Dix, N. J., the following day where he was assigned to Co. L, 310th Infantry. A few days later he with a large detachment from the 310th were transferred to Co. C, 7th Infantry, 3rd Division of the regular army stationed at Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C. He trained at Camp Green until the latter part of March when the 3rd received orders to proceed to Camp Merritt where they were to embark for overseas duty. At Camp Merritt, Corporal Ronk obtained a furlough and visited home and friends for the last time. After little more than a month's intensive training in France Corporal Ronk's division was ordered to the front and served along the line near Chateau Thierry, relieved the marines in Belleau Woods and on the 14th of July was in a position which stood the brunt of the last great German offensive. The valor or the gallant 3rd at this point gained for itself the name of the Marne Division. As those days of torture and hardships passed on, each one with its inconceivable horrors seemingly without end, the fateful day of July 26 came when Ambrose C. Ronk of Ardonia, N. Y., made his last stand for his country, "That noblest, grandest death of all." It is with great satisfaction that one who went in the army with Corporal Ronk and who was with him continuously until within a few days of his death to say that through all the hardships of the army life this soldier was always putting the best that was in him into his duties as a soldier and never failing to think of and show his affection for those he had left at home. Corporal Ronk is survived by a wife, daughter, father, mother, sister and four brothers who have the sympathy of every good American citizen.

SCHIRICK MAY RUN FOR MAYOR

Democratic City Judge Expected to Head City Ticket This Fall—Thomas F. Coughlin to be Candidate for City Judge—Democrats Meet Next Week.

City Judge Harry E. Schirick is expected to head the Democratic city ticket for the office of mayor this fall, while Thomas F. Coughlin, commander of Kingston Post of the American Legion, is expected to be the party's candidate for the office of city judge. As yet they have not selected the "victim" to run for the office of alderman-at-large.

Monday evening the Democrats held a pow-wow in the city court room at the city hall, as related in Tuesday's Freeman, which was attended by the "regulars." Former Mayor Roscoe Irwin presided at the session, which was an executive one, and which lasted until a late hour, and the entire session was devoted to talk of the mayoralty contest and the prospects of landing a Democrat in the mayor's chair this fall.

The fact was brought out that all present were of the opinion that the only Democrat strong enough to lead a forlorn hope on the Republican bulwarks was City Judge Schirick, and according to the Democrats who expressed their opinion at the meeting he stood more of a prospect of winning, according to them, than of any other candidate they could select.

Judge Schirick, who was present, sat through the entire session without saying a word, and what his own personal opinion was in the matter, or whether he would accept or decline the nomination he did not make known.

The meeting that evening was a get-together session called by Mr. Irwin who will be prominent in Democratic politics this fall, and who will hold the reins in the city election as well, to talk over the local situation, and get the views of the ward leaders of the party

From what could be learned Thomas F. Coughlin, who is one of the younger members of the Ulster county bar, is to again be a candidate and will seek the office of city judge.

The Democrats expect to encounter no considerable difficulty in inducing Judge Schirick to accept the "honor" and sacrifice himself for the benefit of the party.

The session closed with the announcement that a "convention" would be held in the council chambers at the city hall some time next week.

As the Democrats have always waited until the Republicans named a ticket before meeting it is likely that the Democratic "convention" will be held after the Republicans have met at which time Mr. Irwin will inform the other members of the party as to who he has selected to run for the various offices, including mayor and city judge.

Some Rattler.

Recently a Kingston man bought a second-hand car of a "light and popular brand," as Abe Martin would say. In a few weeks he discovered that it was a cripple on four wheels instead of a pleasure vehicle he expected. He was describing to us some of its numerous ailments.

"I rather think then," commented his friend, sympathetically, "that she rattles quite a bit when you drive her?"

"Rattles!" he exclaimed. "Why, dammit, she sounds like a skeleton having a congestive chill on a tin roof!"

Financially, Grover Bergdoll is worth half a million. In the eyes of the public, however, he isn't worth a tinker's darn.

A man was saying yesterday over at the Elks' Club as how, that he were not married, and that he had almost made up his mind that if he was married that there is a time when you could call a girl a little dear. Just about this time two of the "dear things" passed going toward the post office and another feller replied that by the way they dress nowadays it would be more appropriate to call her a little bare.

THE VOGUE OF JANE.

Fancy or romantic names for girls have "gone out" in England and the plainest of old-fashioned names, such as Jane, for example, are having a great vogue. According to a London dispatch, it is a common thing to read in the society columns that the infant daughter of Lord and Lady So-and-So has been christened Jane. The change is not attributed to the war—though former wars have had considerable influence in the choice of names—but is said to be due merely to a belated reaction against the fancy names of previous decades, which date back, it is said, all the way to Sir Walter Scott's romances. It appears that the present reaction is largely a popular one, the aristocracy having long preferred plain old-fashioned names.

As soon as this is widely known the same reaction will doubtless be witnessed in America, except perhaps in the case of the Smiths, Browns, etc., who may be strongly disinclined to change their custom of decorating plain surnames with pretty given names. Though we may expect a vogue of old-fashioned names in this country, it is likely that most parents will balk at Jane, fearing that girls so saddled will rebel and choose for themselves something less stiff and more euphonious. And yet the name is agreeably associated with Jane Austen, Jane Eyre and Lady Jane Grey, and it rivals any of the old names in signification, being the British feminine of John, which means "the gracious gift of God."

VACANT PULPITS.

The vacant pulpits in the Protestant churches of this country are now said to number 5,000, and the vacancies are expected to increase steadily owing to the yearly falling off in the number of young men graduating from the theological seminaries. It is said that attendance at Episcopal seminaries dropped from 463 in 1916 to 193 in 1920; in Presbyterian seminaries from 1,188 to 695 in the same period; in the Methodist from 1,226 to 976; and in the Congregational, from 499 to 255. Regarding this unpromising showing a statement from the Harvard Divinity School reads: "The decline in the economic status of the minister and the corresponding decline in his social status are most important contributory causes; as are the changes of religious emphasis during the last half century, the decline of the religious life in the home, and the greatly increased attractions of many other professional opportunities."

These are some of the causes, but the statement is not sufficiently comprehensive. One cause of great importance is the falling off in church attendance, and this, in turn, is not due merely to decreased interest in religious matters, but to public resentment caused by the interference of the churches in civic affairs. Too many pulpits have gone into politics, largely abandoning religion for a kind of civic reform which limits popular liberty. The effort to employ the civil law to stop recreative amusements on Sunday, for example, and thus force people to go to church inevitably produces the opposite of the desired effect.

This coercive tendency receives interesting illustration in the following inaccurate statement of the Rev. Dr Wilbur F. Crafts, of the International Reform Bureau: "The prize fight is an adaptation of the Spanish bull fight. Many other things that we are working against are found to be of foreign origin and un-American. Moving pictures and dancing are French. Beer drinking and liquor producing are German or Irish. The brutal prize fight and animal dancing are brother and sister. We must get back to American morals. The reformer is a restorer who brings back the customs of a better day to America."

Of course it can be convincingly shown that boxing contests are not Spanish but English in origin; that the boxing with bare fists in America's "better day" was far more brutal than the glove fights of our time, as were the bear-baiting, the cock-fights and the gander-pullings of our ancestors; that the motion-picture is due to the inventive genius of America, not France; that dancing and drinking are as old as history, that they were noted throughout the Bible times and appear in the earliest records of all nations. Astonishment might be expressed that a doctor of divinity, who ought to know what happened at the marriage in Cana of Galilee, should assert that "beer drinking and liquor producing" originated among the Irish and Germans. But the only point worthy of note is that too many pulpits are arousing resentment among the masses by seeking to limit popular liberty through the arm of the civil law.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Is there any relation between the skunk cabbage and the calla lily?
2. How long does it take gold fish eggs to hatch?
3. Will a bluebird live in captivity? How should it be housed and fed?

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. From what do the thorns of the locust protect the tree?

Thorns serve both for protection, preventing such plants or trees as bear them from being cropped or tramped on by animals, and thus allow the tree to make upright growth; and in the tropics, as hooks by which certain plants climb tree trunks. The locusts, hawthorns, etc., get the general protection enjoyed by any thorny-growth type.

2. Are silkworms raised in America?

They can be, for this worm is now practically a domestic creature, under cultivation for centuries, in many places, and on different foods. Its natural food is mulberry leaves, but in America it feeds well on foliage of osage orange. It was first brought here in colonial times, and at intervals various attempts to raise it commercially in America have been made, but with no financial success.

3. What reading matter can I get on attracting small wild birds near the home?

Among standard books are Baynes's Wild Bird Guests and Trafton's Methods of Attracting Birds and Bird Friends. Good ideas also in Farmers' Bulletins as follows: 715, Attracting Birds to Public and Semi-public Reservations; 630, Some Common Birds Useful to Farmer; 506, Food of Some Well Known Birds; 760, How to Attract Birds in Northwestern U. S.; 621, How to Attract Birds in Northeastern U. S.; 609, Bird Houses and How to Build Them.

PYTHIANS HELPED.

Made Salvation Army Unusually Successful.

Pythian Knights and Pythian Sisters who are attending respectively the sessions of the grand lodge and grand temple in this city showed their appreciation of the Salvation Army when the latter held its open air meeting in front of the Hotel Stuyvesant Tuesday night.

In addition to its own flag, the Army carried the American flag, and as the colors passed every Knight of Pythias uncovered his head. It was noticeable, however, as it has been on many other occasions, that the majority of Kingstonians failed to uncover at the passing of the colors.

The Salvation Army service was to have ended with the singing of "America," but at the urgent insistence of several members of the crowd the Salvation Army band played "Auld Lang Syne," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and a number of other selections, in the singing of which the hundreds of spectators assembled along both sides of John and Fair streets joined heartily afterward depositing about $55 in a tambourine passed around by Grand Vice-Chancellor Morris A. Drucker while Representative Simon beat the drum.

COUNTY COURT, ULSTER COUNTY. VINA W. WESTBROOK as administratrix with the will annexed of the goods, chattels and credits which were of Maria C. Westbrook, deceased, Plaintiff, against ISAAC G. DAVIS and MARGARET DAVIS, his wife; CALVIN OSTERHOUDT and MARTHA OSTERHOUDT, his wife, and THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action on the 8th day of June, 1921, and entered in the Ulster County Clerk's Office June 11, 1921, I, the undersigned the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston on the 4th day of August, 1921, at 12:00 o'clock noon, the premises directed in and by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the town of Marbletown, County of Ulster and State of New York, about half a mile northerly from the village of Kripplebush, being the southwest portion of the farm formerly owned by Cornelius D. De Lamamte, deceased, and is bounded and described as follows: BEGINNING on the southeast bounds of the other land of Hannah Davis, widow of said John H. Davis, deceased, and runs from thence south 44° east 2 chains, then south 16° west 2 chains and 15 links as the stone wall now stands, thence as the wall now stands south 48° west 1 chain and 50 links, then as the wall stands, south 21° west 6 chains and 10 links to the bounds of land of Hannah M. Rosenkranse, then along her bounds north 63° west 7 chains and 50 links to the west side of a small brook, then south 66° and 30" west 1 chain and 50 links to cedar tree on the Davis Wager road, then along said road north 12° west 3 chains and 10 links or to the bounds of land formerly belonging to the heirs of Paul Wager, deceased, then along the same north 53° east 4 chains and 30 links to the bounds of Hannah Davis aforesaid, then along her bounds south 65° east 5 chains, then along the same north 53° east 5 chains and 67 links to the place of beginning. Containlinks to the place of beginning. Containing 5 acres and 6-10 of an acre of land more or less. Reserving to James H. Smith his heirs and assigns, the right and privilege of riding and crossing over the land herein described as the road now runs from the residence occupied by said Smith in a westerly direction and intersects the said Wager road on the west side of the said small Brook, said road to be one rod wide.

ALSO ALL THAT CERTAIN PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the town of Marbletown, County of Ulster and State of New York, about half a mile northerly from the village of Kripplebush, being bounded as follows, viz: BEGINNING in the corner of the center of the stone wall on the westerly side of the road that leads from the public road near the house owned by the heirs of Paul Wager to the house of the party of the first part, from thence running as the fence now stands north 34° and 30 minutes west 4 chains 18 links to the center of the wall at the bounds of the heirs of Paul Wager, thence along said bounds south 52° west 8 chains and 66 links to a stake in the grounds; thence south 66° and 10" east 3 chains and 80 links, then south 80° and 15 minutes east 1 chain and 22 links, then north 50° and 45" east 5 chains and 73 links to the place of beginning. BADLY HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

Miss Emily Maier of Kerhonkson in an Oneonta Hospital With Possible Fractured Skull Sustained When Car She Was in Collided With Another.

The Oneonta Star says:

Autos driven by W. H. Johnson, who lives on the cemetery road, and Frank Easton, an employe of Miss E. E. Wickham of Kerhonkson, Ulster county, collided at the intersection of the Mickle bridge road and Stanford state highway about three miles from Oneonta at 10 o'clock Monday morning, and as a result Miss Emily Maier, 22 years old, a servant of Miss Wickham, is in the Fox hospital in a critical condition. Dr. David H. Mills, who attended the young woman at the hospital stated Monday night that she was still in a comatose state and that although he thought she had probably suffered a fractured skull, conditions favored her recovery.

Although the life of Miss Maier hangs in the balance, it is remarkable that anyone in the car in which she rode escaped without fatal injuries. As it was, the chauffeur, Argyl Decker, whom Mr. Easton had relieved at the wheel, suffered a bad scalp wound and was unconscious for some time. Mr. Easton received an ugly cut on his back and had his leg twisted so that it was only with difficulty that he walked after the accident. The city ambulance was called and Miss Maier hurried to the Fox Memorial hospital, where she was attended immediately by Dr. Mills. Both men stayed with the machine until Miss Wickham arrived.

Miss Wickham, accompanied by Dr. Ford, proprietor of the Kerhonkson sanitarium, and Miss Wickham's mother, were on their way to spend several weeks in a cottage at Alexandria Bay, Thousand Islands. The servants started two hours before the others and they carried in their car most of the supplies for the outing. Miss Wickham did not learn of the misfortune of her servants until she came upon the scene of the accident.

The supplies, which had been scattered about, were picked up and brought to police headquarters in Oneonta. Messrs. Easton and Decker were brought to Oneonta and Monday night they took a train back to Kerhonkson. The goods were repacked, many of the cases having been broken, and shipped to Alexandria Bay.

Miss Wickham said that her party would remain in the city while the young woman's condition is considered critical. Later, if she recovers, they will continue on to Thousand Islands.

RECEPTION GIVEN PYTHIAN HEAD

Supreme Chancellor Ladew At Armory Tuesday Night Is Also Recipient Of One Of Finest Cameras Made.

The reception and ball in honor of Supreme Chancellor William Ladew Tuesday evening at the State Armory was attended by a large number of the Pythian Knights and Sisters who danced to the delightful music furnished by the Imperial Orchestra. The big drill shed was very artistically decorated with the Pythian colors and flags.

During the evening colored lights were shown on the dancers presenting a very pretty and charming effect. At the height of the dance hundreds of toy balloons were released and came gently floating down among the dancers who thronged the floor.

A number of the children who will take part in the pageant at Forsyth Park this afternoon, attired in costumes, in some manner captured Supreme Chancellor "Billie" Ladew and escorted him to the floor of the armory where Grand Chancellor Palmer Canfield presented him with a handsome camera from "his many Pythian friends."

On the camera is a silver plate bearing the following inscription, "Supreme Chancellor, Kingston Grand Lodge Convention, July 26, 1921. By His Many Pythian Friends." The camera, an autographic Kodak, is a special machine with the finest Bausch & Lomb Tessar Series, anastigmal f 6.3 lens, No. 4, 7½ inch focus on a No. 3-A lens and kodamatic shutter. In design, construction and finish it is one of the finest specimens of workmanship with nothing left undone to make it superlatively good. With the camera was a full equipment including a grain leather, velvet lined case with strap, tripod and case and all necessary equipment including Optipod Kodapod, portrait self-timer and attachment making it one of the most complete outfits one could desire.

Following the presentation of the camera dancing was again enjoyed until a late hour.

MURPHY'S BOATS TO CARRY CARS

Downtown Boat Builder To Engage In New Venture Freighting Automobiles by Barge From Buffalo To New York—Now Getting Barges Ready.

Daniel J. Murphy, the well known downtown boat builder, has decided to engage in a new venture, that of freighting automobiles by barge from points between Buffalo and New York city. He is now getting his barges in shape for the venture. It is planned to carry sixty-five automobiles on each barge. Shipping cars by water will be cheaper than by train, and it is expected that Mr. Murphy's venture will meet with success.

Under the plans as announced cars will be shipped from one point to another between Buffalo and New York by water. For instance if the local automobile dealers have a big shipment of cars waiting at New York city to be brought here they can be shipped by barge to Kingston.

Mr. Murphy, however, will also continue his other business activities, including the boat yard on the Rondout creek.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, July 27.—Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter of Fall River, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Deane on Broadway.

I. Ginzburg and daughter Sophia of Kingston are spending the summer at their bungalow on Main street.

Bernard Tucker is enjoying a trip to Buffalo with his brother Thomas Tucker.

Mrs. Eva Wood of Kingston spent Tuesday with her sister, Miss Mildred Short, on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson and daughter Jean of Philadelphia and Miss Katherine Funk of Albany, were recent guests of Mrs. Thomas Tucker on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Middah are visiting their son Joseph Middah at Bridgeport, Conn.

Miss Florence Vanderbilt of New Rochelle, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. S. P. Tinnie on Broadway.

The Misses Elizabeth and Sarah Guinan are having two bungalows built on their property on Hudson street.

S. B. Van Wagenen is having a cottage built on Sleightsburgh flats. Alvin Schoonmaker, contractor and builder, is doing the work.

The members of the Reformed Sunday School will be given an outing at Forsyth Park, Kingston, on Thursday, August 11, free of charge.

Moth or Butterfly?

There are certain simple indications by which one can tell a moth from a butterfly. The antennae (feelers) of the butterfly usually terminate in a knot, while the antennae of a moth taper to a point. When a moth rests it keeps its wings in a horizontal position, while a butterfly places its wings together in a perpendicular position.

"Give them a cheer! in earth's difficult places,
Those who are toiling unceasingly on;
Tired are their hearts and discouraged their faces,
Give them a lift of a hearty "well done!"
There is the burden of care and of striving,
Carrying forward the world on its way;
You with your greeting can aid their arriving,
Yours is the chance to make glorious their day."

SAVORY SATISFYING DISHES.

When a little corn is left from the meal even if cut from the cob, save it and add to a potato salad, it makes a different salad.

Hot Potato Salad.—Cook the potatoes in thin jackets and cut them up after peeling them as hot as can be handled. Mix with a good dressing and some chopped onion as the seasoning will very quickly enter the potato and thus make it far more palatable. Add a cupful of shredded green mustard and a little chopped celery if at hand and serve at once.

Toast With Ham Sauce.—Prepare a white sauce using thin cream, one cupful and two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour cooked together before adding the cream. Season with salt and pepper and add one-half cupful of minced cooked ham. Pour over well buttered toast and serve hot.

Spring Soup.—Peel and slice three green onions and cook in a tablespoonful of butter four minutes, then add four cupfuls of chicken stock, with one cupful of dry bread crumbs. Bring to the boiling point and simmer forty-five minutes, then rub through a sieve and add one cupful of milk. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add an equal amount of flour and when well blended pour over the hot soup. Cook for five minutes, add one cupful of cream and season well; serve hot.

Prune Ice Cream.—Soak one cupful of prunes in water to cover over night. Cook in the same water until tender, put the pulp through a strainer. Add one cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, a pinch of salt, and one and one-quarter cupfuls of heavy cream whipped. Freeze and garnish with chopped nuts. Thin cream may be used with the juice of two oranges, making a change which is very agreeable.

Greek and Roman Churches.

The Greek church dissents from the doctrine that the Holy Ghost proceeds from the Father and Son, rejects the papal claim to supremacy, and administers the eucharist in both kinds to the laity; it agrees with the Roman church in the belief of seven sacraments, transubstantiation, the adoration of the host, confession, absolution, penance, prayers for the dead, etc. The Greek church formally separated from the Roman church in 1504.

BOLT CAN'T KEEP WHISPELL AWAY

Al Whispell, proprietor of the Phoenicia Hotel at Phoenicia, which was struck by lightning during the storm at that place Tuesday afternoon, was in town today, unstruck and unharmed, and ready to join fellow Knights of Pythias in the Pythian parade this evening.

Mr Whispell had a narrow escape from being struck, but he saw the lightning coming and judged where it would strike. Therefore he moved quickly. The lightning bolt evidently tried to follow Mr. Whispell, but its speed prevented it from turning as quickly as Mr. Whispell, with the result that it struck only a corner of the cornice, knocking some boards loose and splintering a small part of the woodwork. After striking the house, the bolt disappeared. Mr Whispell did not have time to look for it because he was busy counting the trout which he had caught during the morning near the hotel. From an examination of the hotel, however, he could not see that any damage had been done by the lightning.

Lightning has struck in the vicinity of Phoenicia several times in recent years, but generally the only damage has been to some tall tree on nearby hillsides. Up to about two years ago lightning used to strike in Phoenicia quite often, but since then there has been such a noticeable scarcity of bolts that residents not only keep track of them but look for the coming with pleasure.

During Tuesday's storm a ball of fire seemed to enter the house of Charles M. Clark, where preparations were under way for the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society this afternoon. It caused a stinging sensation in the arms and hands of one of the members of the family but apparently no damage resulted from it.

Mr Whispell's many friends in Kingston, who have enjoyed his famous trout dinners, hope that he will stay in Kingston for the remainder of the Pythian convention at least.

LIGGETT HIT BY STOCK SLUMP

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Boston, July 27.—Louis K. Liggett, president of the United Drug Company, former president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, reputed to be a millionaire, today placed his assets in the hands of a trustee.

This action was taken, according to a statement issued by Attorney Frederick C. Snow, because of the decline in the market value of United Drug Company common stock in the last 24 hours.

The stock has dropped approximately 30 points this week, going down about 20 points today when it sold at a record low price for both common and preferred.

FRIDAY SET FOR SINN FEIN REPLY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 27.—With the Sinn Fein chieftains conferring among themselves in secret at Dublin, the opinion was advanced in semi-official circles today that Premier Lloyd-George will not receive a formal reply to his peace offer from Eamond De Valera until Friday.

It will then be necessary to communicate with the Unionist government at Belfast.

If conditions are such that a general Irish peace parley can be held in London it probably will open during the first ten days of August. De Valera, Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and the other members of the Sinn Fein cabinet at Dublin, who have been conferring daily since Sunday have maintained the utmost secrecy and have given no intimation as to their decision.

British officials are hopeful the Sinn Feiners will adopt a conciliatory attitude now that they have given up their demand for an Irish Republic. It is believed that the Irish will not insist upon their right to maintain an army and navy but will content themselves with an Irish police force.

The Unionists of South Ireland, who are already in accord with the Republicans, have been carrying on conversations with the Ulster Unionists and there seems to be ground for belief that they have reached an agreement of some kind.

If the negotiations work out to a satisfactory conclusion and the general peace parley is held to work out a final agreement upon the basis of dominion home rule for Ireland, it is probable that parliament will take the month of December to debate and ratify the solution.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Short-Cramer.

Percy Short of Saugerties and Miss Clarissa N. Cramer of No. 132 East Chester street were quietly married at the parsonage of the Reformed Church of the Comforter on Tuesday afternoon, July 26, by the Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe. They were attended by Miss Florence M. Diamond and Donald L. Cramer, a brother of the bride. After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Short will be at home in Saugerties.

Merwin-Doughty.

Miss Emily Doughty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Doughty of Poughkeepsie, was quietly married to Clayton Merwin of Kingston at the bride's home, 12 DuBois avenue, Tuesday at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Charles Alexander Ross, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Poughkeepsie, officiated. Miss Dorothy Doughty, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and William Doughty acted as best man. The young couple left immediately to spend their honeymoon in the Catskill mountains. Miss Catherine Donaldson of Fox street gave a shower in honor of Miss Doughty recently and the bride was the recipient of many useful and pretty gifts. Those attending the party included Mrs. J. Alverson, Mrs. F. Weed, Mary Dykeman, Mattie Pollein, Mrs. L. Donaldson, Mrs. M. Williams, Irene Donaldson, Catherine Donaldson and Mrs. Merwin. Mr. and Mrs. Merwin will make their home in Chichester, where the groom is in business.

ODDS AND ENDS.

PHOENICIA CENTER OF BIG STORM

Phoenicia and vicinity was visited by one of the most severe electric storms in years on Tuesday afternoon and for a few minutes the rain fell as though from a cloudburst. Within a few minutes the streams in the neighborhood which have been low for the past several weeks raised to an alarming height. During the height of the storm the porch of the Central Hotel at Phoenicia was struck by lightning but fortunately Al. Whispell's popular hotel escaped serious damage.

To add to the situation hundreds of automobiles were held up when one of Philips's big automobile trucks went through one of the small bridges on the detour made necessary by the replanking of the main bridge at Phoenicia. Before the truck could be released and repairs made to the bridge there was a long line of cars on both sides of the bridge waiting to cross. Ray Craft who had been delivering a load of groceries to the mountain resorts was held up from about 12 o'clock until 6 before his big White delivery car could cross.

Pine Hill was the limit of the storm in that direction and the upper end of that village escaped with no rain while the lower end received a gentle shower. From Pine Hill east the storm increased with Phoenicia as the storm center. A light rain fell in Kingston.

There were numerous washouts on the roads and several large trees were blown down making traveling dangerous until the roads had been cleared.

TROOPERS SEIZE ASSORTED BOOZE

Mulford's Hotel At Saugerties Scene Of Latest Raid And Astonishing Array of Jugs And Bottles Is Added To Sheriff's Already Complete Stock—Crotty Freed On Technicality.

Some time during Tuesday night State Trooper Charles A. Roche of Sidney, N. Y., and a number of state troopers armed with a search warrant issued by County Judge Fowler visited Mulford's Hotel, owned by Charles Mulford, situate in the village of Saugertes and seized a quantity of liquors and wine under the Mullan-Gage act. The return and receipt for the goods given by the sheriff to whom the goods seized were placed in charge shows that two gallons of wine were taken from a sealed barrel also 35 bottles of different liquids and wine. The list embraces orange bitters, port wine, White seal, Millshire whiskey, St. Croix rum, Pale table ale, prato, burgundy, sauterne, Underberg bitters, kummel, sherry, Juliene, Arrac, two bottles champagne, two bottles Vermouth, one and half bottles left in the cellar, Bon Carlos rum, Zanfadiel, absinthe, curacao, two bottles Italian Asto, 13 bottles Lash's bitters, four bottles stomach bitters, Angostura bitters, creme de menthe, apricot cordial, bottle alcohol, gallon bottle of wine, glass jar of home brew, two bottles of home brew. The return of the seizure on the search warrant is returnable before Justice of the Peace Chidester on August 10th.

It is said that a search warrant had also been issued by Judge Fowler to State Trooper Charles A. Roche and that after a search by him and troopers of Schoentag's Hotel, on the Saugerties-Kingston road nothing was found, according to the return.

On July 16 the hotel of John Zeilman at Malden was visited by State Trooper Milton F. Nurenberz and other troopers on a search warrant and according to the receipt for the goods seized which were turned over to the sheriff named in the return were the following: One keg hard cider, three-quarter jug creme de menthe, red wine, benedictine, Bernice liquor, port wine, Tokay, burgundy, absinthe, Hoko Vino, orange bitters, mixed wine, maraschino, cocktail bitters, creme re rosa, creme de coca. The return of the seizure is returnable before Justice of the Peace Chidester on August 16th.

State troopers also made a seizure at the hotel of John Crottyn at Veteran on the Saugerties-Woodstock road. A hearing was had soon afterward before Justice of the Peace Chidester and William D Brinner appeared as attorney for Crotty, who raised the question that the information on which the search warrant was issued was defective, which point of objection was sustained and on motion of Mr Brenner Mr Crotty was discharged. One of the boarders at the Crotty Hotel claimed that a bottle of liquor seized was his property and had been purchased by him and used as medicine.

FIGHT FILM MOVERS FINED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 27.—Tex Rickard promoter of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight was fined $1,000 today by Federal Judge Sheppard for bringing films of the fight from New Jersey to New York in violation of the federal statute which prohibits interstate traffic in prize fight films. F. C. Quimby a picture producer, was similarly fined. Both pleaded guilty.

Grand Island Pythians Here.

Forty-nine members of the Tonawanda Rank, Knights of Pythias, of Grand Island, are in town today for the big Pythian parade tonight. They came to Kingston through the courtesy of Grand Juror Grant Dreese, who is known as the Pythian King of Grand Island, and are delighted with their trip and with Kingston.

GIRL DROWNS AT HIGHLAND

Gertrude Benson, 15-year-old daughter of Lawrence Benson of Highland, was drowned in the Hudson river a few hundred feet above the dock of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company at Highland, at 8:15 o'clock, Tuesday night, while swimming with several other younger children. Two small boys attempted to save her but their efforts were unsuccessful and the girl did not again come to the surface after going down for the third time. Her body later was recovered.

She was drowned in water only seven feet deep. It is the theory that she became tangled in the eel grass which grows luxuriantly at the bottom of the river at the point where she was drowned. It is thought also, that she caught a cramp at the time she called for help. The little girl has been in the habit of going in swimming every evening in company with other children who live in the neighborhood.

Benson is a section foreman on the West Shore railroad at Milton. He and his daughter lived near the ferry slip in the house of a family by the name of Cawley. He was notified of his daughter's drowning soon after it occurred.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 27.—United Drug was again very weak in the early trading on the stock exchange today, falling 5 1/4 points to 69. Otherwise the undertone of the market was firm. United States Steel advanced 1/2 to 73 1/2. Baldwin Locomotive rose 5/8 to 78 3/8. United States Rubber gained 1/4 to 53 3/8. Republic Steel advanced 1/8 to 46. Mexican Petroleum, after opening unchanged at 103 3/8, moved up to 104 1/2. General Asphalt rose 1/4 to 50 1/4. Central Leather declined 1/2 to 34 1/2. Pacific Oil rose 1/8 to 35. Studebaker declined 1/2 to 76 1/2. Pierce Arrow was off 1/2 to 16 3/4. Rock Island declined 1/4 to 32 5/8 and Union Pacific advanced 1/4 to 120 3/8.

The feature of the market after the opening was the development of weakness in half a dozen specialties, the prices of those stocks declining sharply. The market leaders held firm.

The market in the afternoon trading was confused in its tone and movements. The announcement of the appointment of trustees for Louis K. Liggett, of the United Drug Company, and the statement that his affairs alone are involved, was followed by a rally in United Drugs from 54 to 58 1/2, but the gain was lost later when it fell to 56.

The market closed heavy; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

KELLY MADE HIS BUSINESS GROW

Ernest A. Kelly of the Archie Winter Express Company shared the deep dark secrets of the baggage express business with his fellow Rotarians at their noonday luncheon on Wednesday, and proved a most entertaining talker. Mr. Kelly told how he bought a run down business and built it up by giving service and meeting emergencies. Starting with a second hand Ford truck, he soon bought another somewhat passe vehicle of the same well known make and is now operating four good Ford trucks, meeting trains and boats, carrying baggage and light freight and brushing away the troubles of travellers who become separated from their baggage. Specific instances illustrating various problems encountered were related in an amusing way and the applause at the ending of the speech was louder than at the beginning.

Of course the speech was preceded by the Rotarians singing "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" and the five minutes remaining after the speech were devoted to singing "Lulu," "John Brown's Body" and other serious musical compositions.

Price Free On Bail.

Frank L. Price, who is still awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree, was admitted to bail in $500 by County Judge Fowler today. The Rev. Martin F. Mahon of Schenectady was the bondsman. Price was arrested in Schenectady a few weeks ago by Police Justice Henry E. McKenzie of Fort Ewen on complaint of Patrick Baldwin. The charge rose out of an automobile.

JUSTICE WILLIAM SUTR.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity

The many loving friends of Mary Tolley who died Sunday morning completely filled the beautiful little funeral chapel of A. Carr and Son on Tuesday evening, to pay to her their last public tribute. The casket was completely covered with exquisite flowers, though all flowers were loved by her to whom for so many years, the hands of little children brought the first spring blossom, summer blooms and autumn leaves. The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church where Mary Tolley had been such a devoted member, officiated at the service and his exquisite tribute to this wonderful woman, was that of a personal friend. Dr. Seeley read a prayer which was found on the little table where the telephone over which Miss Tolley made her calls on friends since her accident stood, and then reminded the friends of Mary Tolley's passionate love for, understanding of and patience with little children. When one stops to think of the literally thousands of young lives that were beneficially influenced by the marvelous guidance of this friend of little children, one realizes that that is the eternal memorial and monument of this life of love, for Dr Seeley made it plain that love of her God, of her Christ, of childish and mature friends was the crowning glory of her womanhood. He said she had won the victory of those graces which are attained only through faith in God and Christ. The burial service was held at Hudson where is the Tolley family burying plot.

Edgar Elsworth of St. Remy, who until recently had enjoyed good health, died suddenly at his home at 10 o'clock Saturday night, July 23. Mr Elsworth was of Holland descent, a son of Daniel Elsworth, who during his life was one of the leading citizens of Ulster county. The deceased, early in life, became a member of the Reformed Church at Hurleyville and later in life he became an active officer both as deacon first then as elder, which office he held till he changed his place of residence and at once associated himself with the Reformed Church in St Remy. His ability as a leader and safe counselor was soon recognized and he was chosen an elder in that church and also served as clerk of consistory. In these offices he served that church for more than fifteen years and was still active in office and in church work up till the time of his death. He was assistant superintendent of the Dupont Powder Company's works at Hilton for nineteen years until that business was abandoned. He attended the same district school which was attended by his father, viz: The Swartekall School District No. 7 at Hilton. Like his father and grandfather he loved to read and while his educational advantages were limited, he made use of every opportunity to improve his mind, and consequently became a well informed man. Because of his honest and upright Christian character he was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Mr Elsworth was a Republican in politics although loyally he always voted for the best candidates. To mourn his loss he leaves his wife, who is superintendent of the home missions of the Ulster County Sunday School Association and members of the Women's Classical Missionary Union of the Classis of Kingston, and one son, Henry S. Elsworth now in the employ of Byron A. Prosser on Clinton avenue, Kingston. The funeral services were held at his late residence on Tuesday afternoon, July 26, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Leonard Appelboorn of Port Ewen conducted the services and delivered the sermon. He was assisted by the Rev. F. B. Seeley of Kingston, and Mr. Raschke, also of Kingston. The floral tributes presented by the Junior Order American Mechanics, the Knights of Pythias, the Independent Order of Red Men, all of which Mr. Elsworth was a member, and the many relatives and friends, were numerous and beautiful. Mrs. Charles Schwab presided at the piano and sang very impressively "Abide With Me" and "Face to Face." Interment was in the family plot in the St. Remy Cemetery.

(Written by a Former Comrade.)

Funeral services were held for Corporal Ambrose C. Ronk July 18 at the M. E. Church at Modena under the direction of Lloyd Post, American Legion, with the Legion Post of New Paltz furnishing the firing squad. A patriotic and impressive sermon was preached by the pastor of the church to a large gathering of friends, neighbors and comrades and the usual Legion ritualistic service was gone through at the grave. Floral tributes were as follows: pillows from wife and daughter; standing cross from mother; wreaths from sister and brothers, Aunt Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Byrne, Albert Monaco, J. O. U. A. M.; flat bouquets from Byron Paltridge and Mr. and Mrs. William Crawshaw. Ambrose C. Ronk was called to the colors on November 22, 1917, from the 3rd Ulster district, arriving at Camp Dix, N. J., the following day where he was assigned to Co L, 310th Infantry. A few days later he with a large detachment from the 310th were transferred to Co C, 7th Infantry, 3rd Division of the regular army stationed at Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C. He trained at Camp Green until the latter part of March when the 3rd received orders to proceed to Camp Merritt where they were to embark for overseas duty. At Camp Merritt, Corporal Ronk obtained a furlough and visited home and friends for the last time. After little more than a month's intensive training in France Corporal Ronk's division was ordered to the front and served along the line near Chateau Thierry, relieved the marines in Belleau Woods and on the 14th of July was in a position which stood the brunt of the last great German offensive. The valor of the gallant 3rd at this point gained for itself the name of the Marne Division. As those days of terrors and hardships passed on, each one with its inconceivable horrors seemingly without end, the fateful day of July 26 came when Ambrose C. Ronk of Ardonia, N. Y., made his last stand for his country. "That noblest, grandest death of all." It is with great satisfaction that one who went in the army with Corporal Ronk and who was with him constantly until within a few days of his death to see that through all the hard-ships of the army life this soldier was always putting the best that was in him into his duties as a soldier and never failing to think of and show his affection for those he had left at home. Corporal Ronk is survived by a wife, daughter, father, mother, sister and four brothers who have the sympathy of every good American citizen.

LITTLE CATERPILLARS.

"Hello," said the first little brown caterpillar, "so you're having a good meal at this leaf?"

"It is what I am having," said the second little brown caterpillar.

"How I do love to eat," said the third little brown caterpillar.

"When I grow bigger I'll eat more," said the fourth little brown caterpillar.

"I will eat so much and grow so fat," said the fifth little brown caterpillar.

"You won't eat any more than I will," said the sixth little brown caterpillar.

"I'll eat as much as any of you," said the seventh little brown caterpillar.

"When I get bigger I'll leave the rest of you," said the eighth little brown caterpillar.

"So will I," said the ninth little brown caterpillar.

"So will we all," said the tenth little brown caterpillar.

"Of course, we will," said the eleventh little brown caterpillar.

"We only stay together while we are young," said the twelfth little brown caterpillar, "and then when we are bigger we all go off and look out for ourselves and don't pay any attention to each other."

"Now our mother left us on this leaf, or rather she gave us this leaf to enjoy and we'll stay here while we are little ones, but we'll go off on our own adventures before long," said the thirteenth little brown caterpillar.

"And later on we will become Blue Swallowtail Butterflies," said the fourteenth little brown caterpillar.

These fourteen little brown caterpillars were all nibbling at a big leaf.

"We'll Stay Here."

Soon they would go off by themselves, each one looking out for himself and paying no attention to his sisters and brothers, for these fourteen little brown caterpillars were sisters and brothers.

"Did our mother receive this leaf as a gift?" asked the first little brown caterpillar.

"Oh no," said the second little brown caterpillar. "She just liked the looks of it or thought the taste of it would be good for us and so she just took it."

"Gracious," said the third little brown caterpillar, "you know caterpillars can't wait until they're asked to have their meals."

"They can't wait to be given leaves," said the fourth little brown caterpillar.

"They'd never get them if they did," said the fifth little brown caterpillar.

"And we must have leaves in our lives," said the sixth little brown caterpillar.

"How handsome we will be when we become Blue Swallowtail Butterflies," said the seventh little brown caterpillar.

"I greatly look forward to that day," said the eighth little brown caterpillar.

"And then we shall fly about and drink honey," said the ninth little brown caterpillar.

"And people will forget that we were caterpillars and will say,

"'Look at those beautiful butterflies with their blue markings,'" added the tenth little brown caterpillar.

"We will pretend not to hear them but it will please us," said the eleventh little brown caterpillar.

"Of course it will please us," said the twelfth little brown caterpillar.

"We will eat and grow strong so we will be very beautiful," said the thirteenth little brown caterpillar.

"And eat too because it is so pleasant to eat," said the fourteenth little brown caterpillar as he took an extra large nibble at their leaf dining room.

So they ate until they were a little bigger and then they went off, each one alone, to look for more food and adventures.

BULLETIN
United States Bituminous Coal Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission and Geological Survey urgently recommend bituminous coal users to lay in winter fuel reserves now.
NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

Coal For The Winter

Not many months ago, factories, public utilities and other large consumers of bituminous coal were buying any coal they could get, and paying any price demanded. Railroads were congested with coal trains moving from the mines, and long strings of "empties" going back for more. Freight cars had to be rationed for other commodities. All business suffered.

Now there is a surplus of both coal and transport. But the country is entering the harvest season when the movement of the crops creates a heavy demand for cars.

Coal consumers who now anticipate a portion of their winter needs by ordering fuel for early delivery have the advantage of a "buyers' market," and the certainty of prompt rail deliveries. The buyer of coal now can obtain the precise grade of fuel best suited for his use.

The New York Central Lines, consuming 12 to 15 million tons of coal a year for locomotive power, have built up their own fuel reserves as insurance against the uncertainties of the coming winter.

At the present time, we have facilities and equipment for the movement of coal to industries along our Lines that have not yet made adequate provision for winter reserves.

Sealed Tight — Kept Right

To the Republican Electors of Ulster County:

We, the undersigned, the chairman and secretary of the Republican County Central Committee of the county of Ulster, pursuant to the rules of said committee, do hereby call a Republican county convention to be held at the Kingston Opera House in the city of Kingston on Thursday, August 4, 1921, at 12 o'clock noon for the following purposes:

First—To recommend to the Republican electors of the county of Ulster, candidates for the party position of delegates to the Republican state convention to be held at Syracuse, N. Y., on the 22nd day of September, 1921, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the court of appeals. Ulster county is entitled to thirteen delegates and thirteen alternates to said convention.

Second—To recommend to the Republican electors of the county of Ulster, candidates for the party position of delegate to the Republican judicial district convention to be held in and for the third judicial district for the purpose of nominating candidates for the office of justice of supreme court. Ulster county is entitled to five delegates and five alternates to said convention.

Third—To recommend to the Republican electors of the county of Ulster, candidates for the nominations of county clerk, coroner and member of assembly.

Fourth—to transact such other and further business as may properly come before such convention.

Pursuant to the rules of the committee aforesaid, such convention shall be composed of three delegates, elected from each of the several election districts in the county of Ulster, who shall be elected at caucuses to be held in the several election districts on Thursday evening, July 28, 1921, at 8 o'clock p. m., for which hour and day caucuses are hereby called to be held in accordance with the rules of the committee.

We also hereby call a convention of said delegates from the several election districts of the city of Kingston, to be convened immediately after the termination of the said county convention, for the purpose of recommending to the Republican electors of the city of Kingston, a candidate for the nomination of mayor of said city; a candidate for the nomination of alderman-at-large for said city, and a candidate for the nomination of judge of the city court for said city.

The said convention and caucuses hereby called to be held, shall be governed by the rules of the Republican county central committee of the county of Ulster.

Dated, Kingston, N. Y., July 12, 1921.

PHILIP ELTING,
Chairman.
JOHN W. ECKERT,

A REPORTER'S TROUBLES

In Trying To Tell Truth About Strand Realty Deals.

Editor, The Freeman:

In Tuesday's issue of the Freeman, in an article concerning the sale to Mrs. Nora Fadoul of the three story brick building on the Strand formerly owned by Martha Hasbrouck, occurs this statement:

"The story secured by a Freeman reporter several days ago from a local real estate agent to the effect that a man named Markle from Accord had bought the building is now said to be untrue."

I am the real estate agent from whom the story in question was secured by the Freeman reporter and was so named therein. The reporter asked me over the telephone if Mr. Markle had bought the properties and I stated that he had. That what I stated was the fact may be verified by an inspection of the recorded conveyances in the office of the clerk of this county. Mr. Markle is still the owner of one of the former Hasbrouck properties. The other he has conveyed to Mrs. Fadoul.

Both transactions were negotiated and closed through my office.

This communication is sent you on the assumption that you have no desire to publish anything but the facts in this matter.

SECOND PYTHIAN TUESDAY SESSION

Need Of Bigger Home At Ogdensburg Is Shown—Permanent Fund Now $101,000—Report of Committee On Laws Adopted.

The second session of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of the State of New York opened in the assembly hall at the Elks' club house, Fair street, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and during the afternoon there was considerable variety to the business transacted. Mayor Canfield, grand chancellor of the grand lodge, presided.

Past Supreme Chancellor Charles S. Davis of Denver, Colorado, was received by the grand lodge after the formal opening, and expressed his pleasure at being present. He spoke on Pythian matters and was accorded an ovation befitting his exalted office.

The report of Grand Keeper of Records and Seal Alonzo Bedell of Haverstraw was presented and read. Afterward it was referred to the committee on subdivision and reference.

Pythian Sisters Received.

Supreme Representative William Grossman and the Grand Lodge Committee on Pythian Sisters consisting of Past Chancellor Robert Cooper of Dunkirk, Supreme Representative Edwin C. O'Connor of Utica and Past Grand Chancellor John A. R. Kapp of Troy presented to the grand lodge a delegation from the Grand Temple of the Pythian Sisters, consisting of Supreme and Grand Lodge officers.

Fraternal greetings were exchanged by the officers of the Grand Lodge and the committee of the Pythian Sisters, and the representatives of the Grand Temple brought words of encouragement to the Grand Lodge in regard to the work which they are conducting wherever Temples have been established.

Report On Pythian Home.

The trustees of the Pythian Home at Ogdensburg, N. Y., submitted their annual report which afterwards was distributed in printed pamphlet form and was referred to the finance committee and other proper channels for appropriate action. The trustees of the Pythian Home are Charles W. Endel, president; John W. Van Demark secretary; George H. Stalker, treasurer; Delos S. Radcliffe and Julius Frank.

Mayor Canfield Cooperated.

In their efforts to manage the affairs of the corporation with a due sense of necessary economy and at the same time properly provide for the necessities of the old folks at the Home, the trustees expressed their appreciation of the valuable cooperation of Grand Chancellor Canfield and others whose helpful suggestions have been of material benefit to the board. The Home at Ogdensburg is a splendid monument to the fraternity and it expresses in concrete form the great heart and generous instincts of the Pythian membership.

More Room Needed.

However, like every human institution, it is ever growing and constantly evolving new conditions. Eight are awaiting admission who for lack of accommodation are being cared for in different localities throughout the state. There are at present ten residents of the Home. It is apparent that additional accommodations must be provided at once, and the trustees are of the opinion that the erection of an addition should be commenced forthwith but are loath to withdraw the amount required from the Permanent Fund of the corporation now amounting to $101,000. They believe this fund should be kept intact so that the earnings thereof should not be lessened.

One of the greatest needs of the Home is a hospital ward where brothers who are afflicted can have the necessary care and comfort. A number of the residents are now unable to ascend and descend the stairs; one is entirely helpless, and others are suffering from the different ailments due to old age, and it is evident that a competent resident nurse soon must be provided.

Contributions Appreciated.

Through the efforts of Trustee Julius Frank, the Ogdensburg Cemetery Association donated to the Pythian corporation a cemetery plot of 1,080 feet in the most desirable location in Ogdensburg Cemetery, the value of which is $1,200.

The annual appeal of the trustees for contributions to the fund, from which the hearts of the residents of the Home are gladdened throughout the year, brought forth a most generous response and illustrates the never failing loyalty of the Pythian membership and the Pythian Sisters, whether in lodges or temples, collectively or as individuals, always with a warm heart for the Pythian Home and those for whom it provides. The amount contributed exceeded by far all previous years. The contributions amounted to $681.20.

The Home Farm.

An analysis of the farm report shows that despite unfavorable conditions there has been no financial loss. It is most gratifying, however, to have the fact established that it is not only good economy to operate our own farm and dairy, but in addition the abundance of pure milk and fresh vegetables means much to the health and happiness of those in the care of the order.

Investment Of Funds.

The trustees are limited as to the character of investments by a Grand Lodge resolution adopted some years ago whereby only guaranteed first mortgages issued by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company are permissible for the investment of its funds. At that time the interest bearing rate was barely 4½ per cent. At this time it is nearly 5½ percent, and this could be further increased if authority were given the board of trustees to purchase state or municipal bonds which at certain periods are obtainable and would yield an income of 6 per cent and over, and which are as secure an investment as guaranteed mortgages. The board of control of the State Insurance Department has tendered the use of its management and judgment in their purchase if permission is granted to the trustees to include the same as investments, which permission the trustees recommended.

The financial statement accompanying the report shows balance on hand and outstanding June 30, 1920, $10,517.81; income, $13,042.49; Christmas fund, $681.20; total disbursements, $21,148.53; balance on hand and outstanding June 30, 1921, $3,092.97. Net assets on June 30, 1920, were $159,453.47; on June 30, 1921, they were $162,193.28, an increase of $2,739.81.

Farm products sold during the year amounted to $1,691.43 and farm products used in the home amounted to $693.08. Maintenance of the farm cost $1,975.16. The report of Superintendent Arthur L. Hartsuff of the Pythian Home stated that conditions for the past year have been rather difficult as to farming, the question of securing competent help being the most serious, owing mainly to the unsettled conditions of labor. The drought affected crops.

Other Grand Lodge Business.

The committee on laws reported through its chairman, Past Chancellor Myron Krieger, on the revision of laws and amendment of by-laws, and the report was adopted.

Uniform Rank Encampment.

A resolution was offered and adopted whereby the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias will hold an encampment in 1922. The committee on convention of the Uniform Rank will make suitable arrangements for next year's encampment.

At five o'clock the Grand Lodge recessed until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

HEALTH CLINIC

To Be Held At Court House All Day Thursday.

A free health clinic will be held Thursday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock and that afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock with Dr. Stanley Wang of New York, who specializes in chest diseases, in charge. It is expected that all those who have been exposed to tuberculosis or feel the after effects of the flu or are suffering with any chest disease will call at the clinic at the court house on Wall street tomorrow and receive a free examination.

As Bad as the Shower.

While visiting a friend who lived quite a distance from my home, a shower threatened, and I remarked: "I guess I'll go before I get wet." While passing a few more remarks I walked backward toward the door, but not noticing where I was going, I landed in a tub of water on the floor. The shower couldn't have gotten me any wetter!—Chicago Journal.

LOW RATES WITH INADEQUATE SERVICE IS A SHORT-SIGHTED POLICY

"This commission," the Arizona Corporation Commission declared in a recent rate decision, "is in a position where it can by a short-sighted policy gain certain popular approval by regulating the public utilities of the state down to a position of insolvency. The temporary public benefit which would result from such a policy would be many times offset by the inferior and inadequate service that is always the result of such conditions, and the restriction to extension of service to developing territories is manifestly prejudicial to public interest."

THE VOGUE OF JANE

Fancy or romantic names for girls have "gone out" in England and the plainest of old-fashioned names, such as Jane, for example, are having a great vogue. According to a London dispatch, it is a common thing to read in the society columns that the infant daughter of Lord and Lady So-and-So has been christened Jane. The change is not attributed to the war—though former wars have had considerable influence in the choice of names—but is said to be due merely to a belated reaction against the fancy names of previous decades, which date back, it is said, all the way to Sir Walter Scott's romances. It appears that the present reaction is largely a popular one, the aristocracy having long preferred plain old-fashioned names.

As soon as this is widely known the same reaction will doubtless be witnessed in America, except perhaps in the case of the Smiths, Browns, etc., who may be strongly disinclined to change their custom of decorating plain surnames with pretty given names. Though we may expect a vogue of old-fashioned names in this country, it is likely that most parents will balk at Jane, fearing that girls so saddled will rebel and choose for themselves something less stiff and more euphonious. And yet the name is agreeably associated with Jane Austen, Jane Eyre and Lady Jane Grey, and it rivals any of the old names in signification, being the British feminine of John, which means "the gracious gift of God."

VACANT PULPITS.

The vacant pulpits in the Protestant churches of this country are now said to number 5,000, and the vacancies are expected to increase steadily owing to the yearly falling off in the number of young men graduating from the theological seminaries. It is said that attendance at Episcopal seminaries dropped from 463 in 1916 to 193 in 1920; in Presbyterian seminaries from 1,188 to 695 in the same period; in the Methodist from 1,226 to 876; and in the Congregational, from 499 to 255. Regarding this unpromising showing a statement from the Harvard Divinity School reads: "The decline in the economic status of the minister and the corresponding decline in his social status are most important contributory causes; as are the changes of religious emphasis during the last half century, the decline of the religious life in the home, and the greatly increased attractions of many other professional opportunities."

These are some of the causes, but the statement is not sufficiently comprehensive. One cause of great importance is the falling off in church attendance, and this, in turn, is not due merely to decreased interest in religious matters, but to public resentment caused by the interference of the churches in civic affairs. Too many pulpits have gone into politics, largely abandoning religion for a kind of civic reform which limits popular liberty. The effort to employ the civil law to stop recreative amusements on Sunday, for example, and thus force people to go to church inevitably produces the opposite of the desired effect.

This coercive tendency receives interesting illustration in the following inaccurate statement of the Rev. Dr Wilbur F. Crafts, of the International Reform Bureau: "The prize fight is an adaptation of the Spanish bull fight. Many other things that we are working against are found to be of foreign origin and un-American. Moving pictures and dancing are French. Beer drinking and liquor producing are German or Irish. The brutal prize fight and animal dancing are brother and sister. We must get back to American morals. The reformer is a restorer who brings back the customs of a better day to America."

Of course it can be convincingly shown that boxing contests are not Spanish but English in origin; that the boxing with bare fists in America's "better day" was far more brutal than the glove fights of our time, as were the bear-baiting, the cockfights and the gander-pullings of our forefathers, that the modern picture is due to the inventive genius of America, not France; that dancing and drinking are as old as history, that they were noted throughout the Bible times and appear in the earliest records of all nations. Astonishment might be expressed that a doctor of divinity, who ought to know what happened at the marriage in Cana of Galilee, should assert that "beer drinking and liquor producing" originated among the Irish and Germans. But the only point worthy of note is that too many pulpits are arousing resentment among the masses by seeking to limit popular liberty through the arm of the civil law.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Is there any relation between the skunk cabbage and the calla lily?
2. How long does it take gold fish eggs to hatch?
3. Will a bluebird live in captivity? How should it be housed and fed?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. From what do the thorns of the locust protect the tree?

Thorns serve both for protection, preventing such plants or trees as bear them from being cropped or tramped on by animals, and thus allow the tree to make upright growth; and in the tropics, as hooks by which certain plants climb tree trunks. The locusts, hawthorns, etc., get the general protection enjoyed by any thorny-growth type.

2. Are silkworms raised in America?

They can be, for this worm is now practically a domestic creature, under cultivation for centuries, in many places, and on different foods. Its natural food is mulberry leaves, but in America it feeds well on foliage of osage orange. It was first brought here in colonial times, and at intervals various attempts to raise it commercially in America have been made, but with no financial success.

3. What reading matter can I get on attracting small wild birds near the home?

Among standard books are Baynes's Wild Bird Guests and Trafton's Methods of Attracting Birds and Bird Friends. Good ideas also in Farmers' Bulletins as follows: 715, Attracting Birds to Public and Semi-public Reservations; 630, Some Common Birds Useful to Farmer, 506, Food of Some Well Known Birds; 760, How to Attract Birds in Northwestern U. S.; 621, How to Attract Birds in Northeastern U. S.; 609, Bird Houses and How to Build Them.

PYTHIANS HELPED.

Made Salvation Army Unusually Successful.

Pythian Knights and Pythian Sisters who are attending respectively the sessions of the grand lodge and grand temple in this city showed their appreciation of the Salvation Army when the latter held its open air meeting in front of the Hotel Stuyvesant Tuesday night.

In addition to its own flag, the Army carried the American flag, and as the colors passed every Knight of Pythias uncovered his head. It was noticeable, however, as it has been on many other occasions, that the majority of Kingstonians failed to uncover at the passing of the colors.

The Salvation Army service was to have ended with the singing of "America," but at the urgent insistence of several members of the crowd the Salvation Army band played "Auld Lang Syne," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and a number of other selections, in the singing of which the hundreds of spectators assembled along both sides of John and Fair streets joined heartily afterward depositing about $55 in a tambourine passed around by Grand Vice-Chancellor Morris A. Drucker while Representative Simon beat the drum.

COUNTY COURT, ULSTER COUNTY. VINA R. WESTBROOK as administratrix with the will annexed of the goods, chattels and credits which were of Maria C. Westbrook, deceased, Plaintiff, against ISAAC G. DAVIS and MARGARET DAVIS, his wife; CALVIN OSTERHOUDT and MARTHA OSTERHOUDT, his wife, and THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action on the 6th day of June, 1921, and entered in the Ulster County Clerk's Office June 11, 1921, I, the undersigned the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston on the 9th day of August, 1921, at 12:00 o'clock noon, the premises directed in said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the town of Marbletown, County of Ulster and State of New York, about half a mile southerly from the village of Kripplebush, being the southwest portion of the farm formerly owned by Cornelius D. De Lamarter, deceased, and is bounded and described as follows: BEGINNING on the southeast bounds of the other land of Hannah Davis, widow of said John H. Davis, deceased, and runs from thence south 44° east 2 chains, then south 10° west 2 chains and 15 links as the stone wall now stands, thence as the wall now stands south 48° west 1 chain and 50 links, then as the wall stands, south 21° west 6 chains and 10 links to the bounds of land of Hannah M. Rosenkranse, then along her bounds north 62° west 7 chains and 50 links to the west side of a small brook, then south 66° and 30° west 1 chain and 50 links to cedar tree on the Davis Wager road, then along said road north 12° west 3 chains and 10 links or to the bounds of land formerly belonging to the heirs of Paul Wager, deceased, then along the same north 52° east 4 chains and 30 links to the bounds of Hannah Davis aforesaid, then along her bounds south 65° east 5 chains, then along the same north 53° east 5 chains and 67 links to the place of beginning. Containing 5 acres and 6-10 of an acre of land more or less. Reserving to James H. Smith his heirs and assigns, the right and privilege of riding and crossing over the land herein described as the road now runs from the residence occupied by said Smith in a westerly direction and intersects the said Wager road on the west side of the said small Brook, said road to be one rod wide.

ALSO ALL THAT CERTAIN PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the town of Marbletown, County of Ulster and State of New York, about half a mile northerly from the village of Kripplebush, being bounded as follows, viz: BEGINNING in the corner of the center of the stone wall on the westerly side of the road that leads from the public road near the house owned by the heirs of Paul Wager to the house of the party of the first part, from thence running as the fence now stands north 34° and 30 minutes west 4 chains 15 links to the center of the wall at the bounds of the heirs of Paul Wager, thence along said bounds south 52° west 8 chains and 66 links to a stake in the grounds; thence south 66° and 10° east 8 chains and 50 links, then south 80° and 15 minutes east 1 chain and 25 links, then north 50° and 45° east 5 chains and 78 links to the place of beginning. Containing 4 acres and 1-10th of an acre of land. With the privilege of a free road and outway from the said described lot to the Public Highway to come on said road from said lot about a chain from the line of the heirs of Paul Wager and running southwesterly to said public road near the house now owned and occupied by the heirs of Paul Wager where the said road is used by the party of the first part, but the party of the second part is bound to assist and help keep said road in repair to be used by the party of the second part, and James H. Smith or his assigns, and as more particularly excepted and reserved in a deed from Hannah Davis to Isaac G. Davis, dated April 13, 1899, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book 350 of Deeds, page 169, on the 15th day of April, 1899.

THE STRANGEST LOVE STORY EVER TOLD

UNSEEN FORCES BRING MAN TO WOMAN MATE TO MATE!

Her faith unfaithful kept her falsely true!

Because woman's instinct, the unseen mating force, had shown her her man, she waited.

She saw him marry another woman, but still she knew that when they met again the old love would spring from the embers that never really die.

They did—and the outcome makes Miriam, the wonderful woman of "Unseen Forces," a figure of tensest drama and infinite appeal in a production it's hard to forget.

For Flies.

For the woman who lives in the country and is unable to get fly paper when her supply runs out, this hint will be useful. Mix half teaspoonful of black pepper, one teaspoonful brown sugar, one teaspoonful of milk, place on plate, and the flies will soon disappear.

ON-A-JOB, OFF-A-JOB JIM!

Being a Story

Of how Jim got on a job and why he got off it again.

"As the will reads, your uncle leaves you three million dollars but—"

"But!" exclaimed Jim, "there's always a 'but' when a guy expects a plum."

"But there is one condition. From the day that the will is recorded until it is probated, a full two years, you must work at no job longer than two days, nor must you be out of work at any time save Sundays, holidays, two weeks yearly vacation, and in case of serious illness."

Jim stared at the lawyer in bewilderment. "Would you mind reading that again?" he stammered.

Once more the strangest will that Jim had ever heard was read, and the lawyer added as he laid aside the legal document, "In other words, you are to secure a job every two days, and you must be sure to get it during the coming two years."

"That means something like three hundred jobs I'm to get, eh? Uncle John was crazy."

"You won't be ble to push that claim in the courts," was the lawyer's dry remark. "He was absolutely sane when he made that will, as his many friends will testify."

"I didn't mean that! I meant—Great Caesar! you know what I meant. Who ever heard a more unreasonable bequest!"

"And yet the argument he offered is most sane. Your parents died poor, mainly because they never realized the value of work or thrift. You have their tendencies. Your uncle had no desire to leave his fortune to a spendthrift. However, he was fond of you."

"So he makes me work for his money! Very well, I am willing to work, but why not at one profession rather than at three hundred?"

"To make the task a difficult one, to give you something to struggle for. And to keep you in touch with the world of working, struggling human beings. At the end of the two years, he believed you would be ashamed to return to the slothful ways of a spendthrift."

"There's something in that, and yet—way, it's impossible, it can't be done! I couldn't get three hundred jobs."

"Think so?"

"Know so." Jim snapped his teeth stubbornly and glared into space. After a moment's thought, "If I don't try who gets the money?"

"Charities."

"Then I lose anyway if I refuse, and I may win if I try?"

"You've got the idea."

"How much money must I make?"

"Your uncle doesn't mention wages. You must provide enough to feed and clothe yourself. Otherwise—"

"I'll get aboard. When do I start?"

"Next Monday."

Jim rose a grin of anticipation spreading over his face. "It will be good sport too. Let me sign my name before my heart stands still with the shock. Three hundred jobs in two years, and three million dollars beckoning me on. Some task, believe me! From this time on I'll be a regular 'On-a-job, Off-a-job Jim,' and Jimmie Lawrence, college grad and lazy loafer will be no more."

PUBLIC NUISANCE ON CLINTON AVE.

Hundreds Of Transient Chickens Keep Residents Awake Nights And Dogs Kept By Same Family Add To Racket In Daytime.

Residents of Clinton avenue in the vicinity of John street are beginning to consider measures to suppress a public nuisance in the form of a poultry mart which is conducted by a family which recently moved in the neighborhood.

At first the family kept chickens in the basement of the house but the board of health acted on complaints of citizens and compelled removal of the poultry from the house and likewise a general cleaning up of the premises, the odor from which was carried over the neighborhood.

After the board of health had acted, the family constructed a chicken yard and coops in the rear of the premises which is used for storage of from 600 to 800 chickens.

Meanwhile, the family has continuously used Clinton avenue for storage of chickens. An automobile is used during the day for gathering and distributing chickens. The auto delivers the live chickens to boarding houses which do their own butchering and then makes a tour of the farming country to buy fresh supplies from farmers.

The automobile reaches the Clinton avenue house on its return from the country from ten o'clock to midnight. Generally it is filled with crates which are packed with from 200 to 300 chickens to be taken out for sale to the boarding houses early the following morning. Throughout the night the chickens in the crates squak and fight until sleep in the neighborhood is utterly impossible. Then before daybreak the roosters begin to crow while the imprisoned hens add to the racket. At seven o'clock, the poultry dealers start on their day's journey.

Thankful neighbors are glad to see the automobile and its owners depart with their load, but the rest of the family, with a number of dogs owned by them, manage to make enough noise during the daylight hours to supply the deficiency caused by the removal of the poultry. But at night the racket begins again. Residents of the neighborhood believe there is already sufficient law to remove the nuisance.

THE GIRL SCOUT CAMP.

Its Charms Described By One Of Scouts—Room For More.

Up in Ideal Park, cozily surrounded by the Catskill Mountains, nestles a camp for Ulster County Girl Scouts.

It is composed of five tents and a club-house, all of which are filled with romping, rollicking girls. Here, in this nest of Nature, the girls work and play and flourish from pale, sickly creatures into plump rosy girls. Early rising and early retiring make pale cheeks red and heavy eyes wide open.

The beautiful days are filled with gay sports such as tennis, base ball, basket ball and dancing. Of course there is some light work.

On rainy days, the Scouts gather around a camp fire in the club-house. Here stunts are enacted, stories told and games played.

So, after these many days of eating wholesome food, playing, working and being trained by our able Scout Leader, Mrs. O'Loughlin, the girls, with reluctant good byes to those left behind, return home, having not only gained in weight but knowledge which will help them to meet life's troubles and sorrows and always to, "Be Prepared."

A Scout At Camp.

The few vacancies which may occur between now and August 17th may be filled by girls over 12 years old who are not Scouts. Application should be made to Miss Martha H. Davis, 74 John street.

From August 17th to 31st, the Girl Scout Council has offered the use of the camp to older girls. Application for this time may be made at the Chamber of Commerce, 448 Broadway.

AT THE THEATRES.

"Unseen Forces" At Keeney's—"Minus Marriage" At Opera House.

"Minus Marriage," a new comedy, is the attraction at the Kingston Opera House tonight at 8:30. Cyril Chadwick, popular actor and a Broadway star, has the stellar role supported by a cast of well known Broadway favorites. This comedy tells the story of a girl with too much money, too much time, and nothing special to do with either one. How she endeavors aided and abetted by her friend, a self appointed pioneer of her sex, to wreck her life, constitutes the plot. There will be a matinee performance tomorrow at 2:30 and again tomorrow night at 8:30.

The love power that brings man to woman, mate to mate, in "Unseen Forces" at Keeney's tonight has a touch of the occult. Thursday Florence Vidor in "Beau Revel," the adventures of a man who had a way with women, revealing some of the secrets of New York's elite and sparkling with lure and luxury.

Edmund Lowe and Vola Vale in "Someone in the House" at the Auditorium tonight is a story of a thousand thrills. Under the veneer of a polished gentleman is the shrewd cleverness of a great diamond thief. How the enabling love of a trusting woman wins a society parasite from his nefarious pursuits form a story that is tense in dramatic power. Eileen Sedgewick in "The Diamond Queen" is also programmed. Thursday Art Accord in the sensational western chapter play, "The White Horseman."

TROOPER HURT

While Riding Major Chandler's Horse In Polo Practice.

Corporal F. B. Homedew, of South Glens Falls, a member of "B" Troop, state police, is a patient in the Kingston City Hospital as a result of injuries sustained at the Malone headquarters of the troop Monday in a practice polo match. His injuries are not considered serious, as was at first feared.

The horse that threw the trooper was Major Chandler's prize pet, Gaum, presented to him by a state official several months ago. The horse was taken to the Malone headquarters of the new troop to be placed in stud. Homedew rode the animal recently on a 400 mile journey from "K" troop's quarters at White Plains to the Malone barracks.

WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC. WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILD GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

At their own doors—in the very gardens of those who are weak, nervous and ailing all the while is one of the most valuable tonics and strength-builders known to medical science, said Dr. James Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) and the Westchester County Hospital, New York, when consulted recently.

Dr. Sullivan further said:—"If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron you are giving your body the red blood food it craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases, what you need is iron—organic iron to remove the cause of your trouble, and the moment organic iron is supplied it is often wonderful how quickly your multitude of symptoms will disappear and how strong and vigorous you will become." But be careful to distinguish between ordinary metallic iron which people usually take and true organic iron. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings, while organic iron is a true red blood food, like the iron in your blood itself and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. In fact if you will eat a pint or two of spinach, half a pint of lentils and three or four baked apples each day you will probably not need to take any other form of organic iron; but most people prefer to eat a smaller quantity of iron-containing vegetables and take organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, with them. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. To prove to yourself what Nuxated Iron can do for you, get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles; then take Nuxated Iron for a month and have a new "blood count" made and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased and how much stronger and better you feel; see how the color has come back to your cheeks, how steady and strong your nerves have become. At all druggists.

Insect With Spring-Board Nose.

Among the curious insects of the Malay peninsula studied by a member of the London Zoological society is one called the lantern-fly, which is remarkable for its sudden leaps, made without the aid of its wings. It was only after the observer had carried a specimen to London and carefully examined it that he discovered that a curious projection on the front of its head, a kind of nose with a crease in it, was the leaping organ. When bent back under the abdomen and suddenly released it sent the insect flying.

MEYERS WANTS TO RUN DOWNTOWN

Henry Myers, who operates the Rosendale-Kingston bus line, will make an application to the common council for permission to extend his bus line to the downtown section of the city stopping at the Strand bus terminal for the convenience of his partons. Mr. Myers's buses now stop at the central terminal on Broadway, and when necessary run to the uptown terminal on Crown street.

At the last session of the common council when the petition of Charles Proper to operate a Lawrenceville-Rosendale-Kingston bus line to the Strand terminal was up for a public hearing a petition was received from a number of downtown business men asking that the petition be granted as they desired the bus to stop at the Strand terminal. It will be remembered that the council refused to grant Proper a permission to operate.

It is expected that the council will grant Mr. Myers's application to stop at the Strand terminal.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL VERY IMPRESSIVE

Grand Lodge Knights and Pythian Sisters Unite In First Dutch Church at Beautiful Service For Dead.

The most impressive memorial service held in Kingston in many years was that held jointly by the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of the State of New York and the Grand Temple of Pythian Sisters of New York, this morning in the First Reformed Church.

The service began at 11:30 o'clock after adjournment of both grand bodies, and lasted three-quarters of an hour. Past Grand Chancellor Charles W. Endel of New York city, chairman of the committee on necrology of the grand lodge, presided. The historic church was filled with the Pythian Knights and Sisters when the service began.

After the rendition of Handel's Largo by W. Whiting Fredenburgh, organist and choirmaster of the church, prayer was offered by Grand Prelate James K. O'Connor of Syracuse, and Mrs. Florence Cubberly beautifully rendered a violin solo, "Adoration," by Sinding, with organ accompaniment.

Mrs. Lizzie P. Frerichs of Tottenville, Staten Island, past grand chief of the Pythian Sisters, delivered an impressive eulogy for the Pythian Sisters who had died during the year, in which she elaborated the idea that while it is a beautiful custom to strew flowers about the departed, it is even more beautiful to strew kind deeds and words along the pathway of the living.

Mrs. Benjamin Johnston, soprano soloist of the church, sang sweetly Liddle's "Abide With Me" after which the names of the Pythian Knights in whose memory the service was held, was read. During the reading of the list the bell of the church was tolled.

Past Grand Chancellor Endel delivered the eulogy for the deceased Knights. He said:

Time's swift chariot has swept past another mile post and from the great Pythian army, battling for the cardinal principles of our order, many have been called to the restless activities of the world beyond. With them life's tournament is over—they have laid down the spear and shield, and with lifted visors they face the tomorrows of a brighter and better world.

These visitations remind us that our stay on earth is but a pilgrimage and is only part of a larger destiny. Though vanished from bodily sight, they have not ceased to be, and it is well with them; them dwell in everlasting spirit. Let those who mourn for them be comforted. In the divine order of nature both life and death, joy and sorrow, serve beneficent ends, and in the fullness of time we shall know why we are tried and why our love brings us sorrow as well as happiness.

"Thus pass away the men of might,
Whose noiseless footprints stamped the age:
Their thoughts that filled the earth with light,
Still glow and glaze on memory's page."

Ours is not a memory of grief. Only happy memories are becoming to the departed, only helpful memories are worth while to the living. If our departed brethren could know of our memorial, if we could solve the great mystery of mysteries and know that they knew, we should still attune our memorial above the murmurings of sorrow. For them the book of life is closed.

This memorial will not be in vain and our departed brothers will be fittingly honored if in the vineyard of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence we cultivate everything in life worth while; if we resolve in our hearts to practice faithfully the things that Pythianism preaches, if we magnify the helpful and beautiful memories of our dead and impress on the living the fraternity whose earnest endeavor is the elevation, the happiness, the betterment of mankind.

The silence of those who have become immortal is more eloquent than words, and one feels the heavenly influence from a neighborhood with those who have entered the still region beyond. Let us dream in memory's wake of those who have crossed the river that mark the unknown shore.

"From end to end,
Of all the landscapes underneath
We find no place that does not breathe
Some gracious memory of a friend."

Whatever our faith, there is one place they should not die; that is within ourselves. Let us learn to live more with our dead and to live with them without sadness and without fear. There is no tomb, however deep, whose stone may not be raised and whose dust scattered by a thought. There would be no difference between the living and the dead if we but knew how to remember. There would be no dead. The best of what they were dwells with us after fate has taken them from us; all their past is ours, and it is wider than the present, more certain than the future.

Let us who are living so shape our course in fraternal as well as in private life that when the tide of time shall for us have ebbed to rise no more may we stand upon the shores of eternity prepared to meet the searching dawn of an immortal day.

"There is no death—the stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in heaven's jewelled crown,
They shine forever more."

Following the eulogy, Mrs. Cubberly effectively rendered Kreisler's "Berceuse," and the service concluded with taps. As the last note sounded within the church, a cornetist outside the edifice took up the music and sounded them again, and as the last note died away a third cornetist from a distance sounded them a third time, the sound finally dying away with impressive effect.

Picturing Pythians.

Several "minute men" from out of town who made tintype snapshots at the rate of one a minute, have done a land office business on John, Fair and Wall streets. Pythians with uniforms, Pythian Sisters and children who accompanied their parents to the grand lodge convention being willing subjects for the street photographers.

BRIDGE RIVETER LOST HIS TEETH

John O'Brien, a riveter employed in the building of the Rondout creek bridge, lost most of his upper teeth this morning when struck in the mouth with a red hot rivet, but after having some false teeth inserted in the place of the missing ones he gamely returned to work.

The rivets used in riveting together the steel work are all heated to a white heat in a forging kettle, and when they have reached the necessary heat are removed from the kettle with a pair of steel pincers and then thrown to the riveter at work on the bridge who catches them in a keg or bucket and rivets them in place as fast as they are thrown to him.

This morning the rivet thrown to O'Brien struck an obstruction which caused it to rebound upwards catching O'Brien in the mouth. The side of his nose was also burned.

BADLY HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

Miss Emily Maier of Kerhonkson in an Oneonta Hospital With Possible Fractured Skull Sustained When Car She Was in Collided With Another.

The Oneonta Star says:

Autos driven by W. H. Johnson, who lives on the cemetery road, and Frank Easton, an employe of Miss E. E. Wickham of Kerhonkson, Ulster county, collided at the intersection of the Mickle bridge road and the Stamford state highway about three miles from Oneonta, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, and as a result Miss Emily Maier, 22 years old, a servant of Miss Wickham, is in the Fox hospital in a critical condition. Dr. David H. Mills, who attended the young woman at the hospital stated Monday night that she was still in a comatose state and that although he thought she had probably suffered a fractured skull conditions favored her recovery.

Although the life of Miss Maier hangs in the balance, it is remarkable that anyone in the car in which she rode escaped without fatal injuries. As it was, the chauffeur, Argyl Decker, whom Mr. Easton had relieved at the wheel, suffered a bad scalp wound and was unconscious for some time. Mr. Easton received an ugly cut on his back and had his leg twisted so that it was only with difficulty that he walked after the accident.

The city ambulance was called and Miss Maier hurried to the Fox Memorial hospital, where she was attended immediately by Dr. Mills. Both men stayed with the machine until Miss Wickham arrived.

Miss Wickham, accompanied by Dr. Ford, proprietor of the Kerhonkson sanitarium, and Miss Wickham's mother, were on their way to spend several weeks in a cottage at Alexandria Bay, Thousand Islands. The servants started two hours before the others and they carried in their car most of the supplies for the outing. Miss Wickham did not learn of the misfortune of her servants until she came upon the scene of the accident.

The supplies, which had been scattered about, were picked up and brought to police headquarters in Oneonta. Messrs. Easton and Decker were brought to Oneonta and Monday night they took a train back to Kerhonkson. The goods were repacked, many of the cases having been broken, and shipped to Alexandria Bay.

Miss Wickham said that her party would remain in the city while the young woman's condition is considered critical. Later, if she recovers, they will continue on to Thousand Islands.

RECEPTION GIVEN PYTHIAN HEAD

Supreme Chancellor Ladew At Armory Tuesday Night Is Also Recipient Of One Of Finest Cameras Made.

The reception and ball in honor of Supreme Chancellor William Ladew Tuesday evening at the State Armory was attended by a large number of the Pythian Knights and Sisters who danced to the delightful music furnished by the Imperial Orchestra. The big drill shed was very artistically decorated with the Pythian colors and flags.

During the evening colored lights were shown on the dancers presenting a very pretty and charming effect. At the height of the dance hundreds of toy balloons were released and came gently floating down among the dancers who thronged the floor.

A number of the children who will take part in the pageant at Forsyth Park this afternoon, attired in costumes, in some manner captured Supreme Chancellor "Billie" Ladew and escorted him to the floor of the armory where Grand Chancellor Palmer Canfield presented him with a handsome camera from "his many Pythian friends."

The camera is a silver plate bearing the following inscription, "Supreme Chancellor, Kingston Grand Lodge Convention, July 26, 1921. By His Many Pythian Friends." The camera, an autographic Kodak, is a special machine with the finest Bausch & Lomb Tessar Series, anastigmat f 6.3 lens, No. 4, 7½ inch focus on a No. 3-A lens and kodamatic shutter. In design, construction and finish it is one of the finest specimens of workmanship with nothing left undone to make it superlatively good. With the camera was a full equipment including a grain leather, velvet lined case with strap, tripod and case and all necessary equipment including Optipod Kodapod, portrait self-timer and attachment making it one of the most complete outfits one could desire.

Following the presentation of the camera dancing was again enjoyed until a late hour.

MURPHY'S BOATS TO CARRY CARS

Downtown Boat Builder To Engage In New Venture, Freighting Automobiles by Barge From Buffalo To New York—Now Getting Barges Ready.

Daniel J. Murphy, the well known downtown boat builder, has decided to engage in a new venture, that of freighting automobiles by barge from points between Buffalo and New York city. He is now getting his barges in shape for the venture. It is planned to carry sixty-five automobiles on each barge. Shipping cars by water will be cheaper than by train, and it is expected that Mr. Murphy's venture will meet with success.

Under the plans as announced cars will be shipped from one point to another between Buffalo and New York by water. For instance if the local automobile dealers have a big shipment of cars waiting at New York city to be brought here they can be shipped by barge to Kingston.

Mr. Murphy, however, will also continue his other business activities, including the boat yard on the Rondout creek.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, July 27.—Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter of Fall River, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Deane on Broadway.

Mrs. Eva Wood of Kingston spent Tuesday with her sister, Miss Mildred Short, on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson and daughter Jean of Philadelphia and Miss Katherine Funk of Albany, were recent guests of Mrs. Thomas Tucker on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Middah are visiting their son Joseph Middah at Bridgeport, Conn.

Miss Florence Vanderbilt of New Rochelle, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. S. P. Tinnie on Broadway.

The Misses Elizabeth and Sarah Guinan are having two bungalows built on their property on Hudson street.

S. B. Van Wagenen is having a cottage built on Sleightsburgh flats. Alvin Schoonmaker, contractor and builder, is doing the work.

The members of the Reformed Sunday School will be given an outing at Forsyth Park, Kingston, on Thursday, August 11, free of charge.

Moth or Butterfly?

There are certain simple indications by which one can tell a moth from a butterfly. The antennae (feelers) of the butterfly usually terminate in a knot, while the antennae of a moth taper to a point. When a moth rests it keeps its wings in a horizontal position, while a butterfly places its wings together in a perpendicular position.

CLEVELAND SIX

The New Price Sets It Apart From Competition

Last September the Cleveland Six, with cord tires, sold for $1645. Now it sells for $1295.

No comparable car, either six or four, equals it for such a low price.

Built in its own big modern plant by men of long experience in the building of fine automobiles, the Cleveland is of sturdy and dependable construction. It excels in generous power and flexibility, and in its rare riding comfort. Cleveland bodies are of unusual beauty and finely finished.

"Give them a chair in which to rest;
Those who are toiling unceasingly on;
Tired are their hands and downcast their faces,
Give them a bit of a hearty word cheer!
There is the burden of care and of duress,
Carrying forward the world on its way;
Toil with your greeting and deed and caress,
Yours is the chance to make sunshine each day."

SAVORY SATISFYING DISHES.

When a little cold is left from the meat even if cut from the rib, save it and use as a potato salad. It makes a different salad.

Hot Potato Salad.—Cook the potatoes in their jackets and cut them up after peeling them as hot as can be handled. Mix with a good dressing and some chopped onion as the seasoning will very quickly color the potato and then make it far more palatable. Add a cupful of shredded green mustard and a little chopped celery if at hand and serve at once.

Toast With Ham Sauce.—Prepare a white sauce using this cream, one cupful and two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour cooked together before adding the cream. Season with salt and pepper and add one cupful of minced cooked ham. Pour over well buttered toast and serve hot.

Spring Soup.—Peel and slice three green onions and cook in a tablespoonful of butter four minutes, then add four cupfuls of chicken stock, with one cupful of dry bread crumbs. Bring to the boiling point and simmer forty-five minutes, then rub through a sieve and add one cupful of milk. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add an equal amount of flour and when well blended pour over the hot soup. Cook for five minutes, add one cupful of cream and season well; serve hot.

Prune Ice Cream.—Soak one cupful of prunes in water to cover over night. Cook in the same water until tender, put the pulp through a strainer. Add one cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, a pinch of salt, and one and one-quarter cupfuls of heavy cream whipped. Freeze and garnish with chopped nuts. This cream may be used with the juice of two oranges, making a change which is very agreeable.

Greek and Roman Churches.

The Greek church dispute from the doctrine that the Holy Ghost proceeds from the Father and Son, rejects the papal claim to supremacy, and administers the sacrament in both kinds to the laity; it agrees with the Roman church in the belief of seven sacraments, transubstantiation, the adoration of the host, confession, absolution, penance, prayers for the dead, etc. The Greek church formally separated from the Roman church in 1054.

Excels Greece.

A young Greek, whose home is in Athens, was a visitor to the capitol, and after making the rounds of the different apartments and viewing the beauties of the nave he said he had seen all the finest buildings in his native country, but none of them could compare with Kentucky's capitol for beauty and elegance of construction.—Frankfort State Journal.

FRUIT MEN WILL MEET ON AUG. 24

At Orange Lake—State Commissioner Hogue to be Among the Speakers—Ulster County Men on General Committee for Event.

James E. Sleight, manager of the annual outing of the Farmers and Fruit Growers of the Hudson valley, reports splendid progress in the plans for this event, which is to be held in Orange Lake Park on Wednesday, August 24. He has received acceptances from the following to act on the general committee for the occasion:

The Hon. B. B. Odell, the Hon. Henry M. Leonard, the Hon. W. Johnston McKay, the Hon. Jonathan D. Wilson, Edward Barnes, J. A. Hepworth, Milo Hepworth, Ralph Young, William Wright, J. Foster Wygant, J. C. Wygant, Howard H. C. Wygant, Wilber Haviland, Sands Haviland, Dubois Anderson, John Rusk, Edward Fowler, Albert Elgee, William Elgee, Dorley Hutchinson, John Passmore, J. Grimley, H. Dawes, C. Baxter, H. S. Tuttle, James A. Staples, A. R. Beal, the Hon. Senator Caleb Baumes, the Hon. Arthur E. Brundage, the Hon. E. C. Quimby, J. Townsend Cassedy, D. C. Dominick, William J. Kohl, Bryant B. Odell, T. Conway, P. Gallagher, J. McLaughlin, H. Purdy, Charles Bloomer, W. Covert, C. C Lockwood, J. W. Bingham, J. Quimby, S. M. Quimby, George Suiter, Charles Greiner, Cal. Staples, F. McLaughlin, J. G. Graves, W. J. Cosman, William Brown, Edward Carpenter, C. Harcourt, B. Harcourt, William Wardell, F. G. Velie, H. A. Gade, L. Morehead, E. A. Sleight, M. L. Sleight, George Cole, Walter Betts, Moser Smith, E. G. Fowler, William Wygant, G. G. Fowler, E. Fowler, H. Cooley, Charles Reynolds, E. Westphal, Arthur Reynolds, James D. Tweed, James V. Van Gorden, Alex. Goldberg, W. Y. Velie, James Habeley, W. R. Perkins, F. S. Craft, F. Baker and W. Cosman.

George E. Hogue, the new commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture, will make his first visit to Orange county on the occasion of the outing at the lake. Word has been received from Commissioner Hogue that he will be pleased to attend the outing. While he has not yet definitely decided upon the topic for his address which he will make at the outing, it is likely he will discuss the general agricultural outlook. The farmers and fruit growers of Orange and the adjoining counties will undoubtedly turn out in large numbers to greet the new commissioner.

It is expected former Governor B. B. Odell will act as chairman. The Hon. Caleb H. Baumes senator from that district, will be one of the speakers.

Exhibits by various business concerns, of special interest to farmers —and there will be many of them judging from present indications—will give the outing a sort of county fair aspect.

Ambulance Calls Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Robinson was removed from 183 O'Neil street to the Benedictine Hospital in the ambulance Tuesday, and Mrs. Clara Turkin was removed from 77 Downs street to the Day Boat that afternoon.

Changing the Basis.

Two preachers, one white and the other colored, served rural charges in Mississippi which were coterminous. The negro received a considerably larger salary than his white brother, who asked him if it was not his custom to expel his members who failed to pay. "No, boss," he replied, "we would not like to put the gospel on a money basis. We gets them to subscribe, and if they don't pay we turns them out for lying."—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

English Needle Industry.

English needles were first made at Long Crendon, Oxfordshire, and afterward at Redditch, while their manufacture was still in the main a home industry, different stages being completed in the cottages of the workers who were generally women. Then came machinery; fortunes were made —sometimes lost—in the needle trade as in every other industry.

Safety Match Swedish Invention.

The safety match was the invention of a Swedish manufacturer named Lundstrum. It has been on the market since 1855. Its head contains no phosphorus, but holds a mixture of which chlorate of potash usually forms a part. The striking surface, on the side of the box, is formed by a compound of red phosphorus and sand. The safety match is manufactured chiefly in Sweden, Norway and Japan.

A Narrow Range.

The motion picture people are at their wits' ends for scenarios with new plots. Don't they know that there are but 37 plots which comprehend every possible human experience and set the limits for dramatist and story and novel writer? Judging by what we have seen on the screen, but a dozen have been used.—Los Angeles Times.

The Single Track.

The profiteer was being shown over an English museum one day by one of the directors. They came to the room where the stuffed birds were exhibited. "Now, these stuffed birds," said the director, "are among the finest specimens in the country. They're worth thousands and thousands of pounds." "You don't say so!" said the profiteer, studying the cases; "what are they stuffed with, then?"

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

LITTLE CATERPILLARS.

"Hello," said the first little brown caterpillar, "so you're having a good meal at this leaf?"

"It is what I am having," said the second little brown caterpillar.

"How I do love to eat," said the third little brown caterpillar.

"When I grow bigger I'll eat more," said the fourth little brown caterpillar.

"I will eat so much and grow so fat," said the fifth little brown caterpillar.

"You won't eat any more than I will," said the sixth little brown caterpillar.

"I'll eat as much as any of you," said the seventh little brown caterpillar.

"When I get bigger I'll leave the rest of you," said the eighth little brown caterpillar.

"So will I," said the ninth little brown caterpillar.

"So will we all," said the tenth little brown caterpillar.

"Of course, we will," said the eleventh little brown caterpillar.

"We only stay together while we are young," said the twelfth little brown caterpillar, "and then when we are bigger we all go off and look out for ourselves and don't pay any attention to each other."

"Now our mother left us on this leaf, or rather she gave us this leaf to enjoy and we'll stay here while we are little ones, but we'll go off on our own adventures before long," said the thirteenth little brown caterpillar.

"And later on we will become Blue Swallowtail Butterflies," said the fourteenth little brown caterpillar.

These fourteen little brown caterpillars were all nibbling at a big leaf.

"We'll Stay Here."

Soon they would go off by themselves, each one looking out for himself and paying no attention to his sisters and brothers, for these fourteen little brown caterpillars were sisters and brothers.

"Did our mother receive this leaf as a gift?" asked the first little brown caterpillar.

"Oh no," said the second little brown caterpillar. "She just liked the looks of it or thought the taste of it would be good for us and so she just took it."

"Gracious," said the third little brown caterpillar, "you know caterpillars can't wait until they're asked to have their meals."

"They can't wait to be given leaves," said the fourth little brown caterpillar.

"They'd never get them if they did," said the fifth little brown caterpillar.

"And we must have leaves in our lives," said the sixth little brown caterpillar.

"How handsome we will be when we become Blue Swallowtail Butterflies," said the seventh little brown caterpillar.

"I greatly look forward to that day," said the eighth little brown caterpillar.

"And then we shall fly about and drink honey," said the ninth little brown caterpillar.

"And people will forget that we were caterpillars and will say,

"'Look at those beautiful butterflies with their blue markings,'" added the tenth little brown caterpillar.

"We will pretend not to hear them but it will please us," said the eleventh little brown caterpillar.

"Of course it will please us," said the twelfth little brown caterpillar.

"We will eat and grow strong so we will be very beautiful," said the thirteenth little brown caterpillar.

"And eat too because it is so pleasant to eat," said the fourteenth little brown caterpillar as he took an extra large nibble at their leaf dining-room.

So they ate until they were a little bigger and then they went off, each one alone, to look for more food and adventures.

RIDDLES.

Why is Ireland like a bottle? Because it has a Cork in it.

When was beefsteak highest? When the cow jumped over the moon.

What precious stone is like an entrance to a field? Agate (a gate).

Why is a horse the most sympathetic of animals? Because he always gives the tit out of his mouth.

Which is the most wonderful animal in the farmyard? The pig, because he is killed and then cured.

What is the difference between a lawsuit a musician who plays on his own time? One lays at pleasure, and the other plays at leisure.

While nightmare is said to be capable of causing death to a physically weak adult, this has never been known to happen to a child; yet children are more subject to nightmare than adults.

BULLETIN
United States Bituminous Coal Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission and Geological Survey urgently recommend bituminous coal users to lay in winter fuel reserves now
NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

Coal For The Winter

Not many months ago, factories, public utilities and other large consumers of bituminous coal were buying any coal they could get, and paying any price demanded. Railroads were congested with coal trains moving from the mines, and long strings of "empties" going back for more. Freight cars had to be rationed for other commodities. All business suffered.

Now there is a surplus of both coal and transport. But the country is entering the harvest season when the movement of the crops creates a heavy demand for cars.

Coal consumers who now anticipate a portion of their winter needs by ordering fuel for early delivery have the advantage of a "buyers' market," and the certainty of prompt rail deliveries. The buyer of coal now can obtain the precise grade of fuel best suited for his use.

The New York Central Lines, consuming 12 to 15 million tons of coal a year for locomotive power, have built up their own fuel reserves as insurance against the uncertainties of the coming winter.

At the present time, we have facilities and equipment for the movement of coal to industries along our Lines that have not yet made adequate provision for winter reserves.

To the Republican Electors of Ulster County:

We, the undersigned, the chairman and secretary of the Republican County Central Committee of the county of Ulster, pursuant to the rules of said committee, do hereby call a Republican county convention to be held at the Kingston Opera House in the city of Kingston on Thursday, August 4, 1921, at 12 o'clock noon for the following purposes:

First—To recommend to the Republican electors of the county of Ulster, candidates for the party position of delegates to the Republican state convention to be held at Syracuse, N. Y., on the 22nd day of September, 1921, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the court of appeals. Ulster county is entitled to thirteen delegates and thirteen alternates to said convention.

Second—To recommend to the Republican electors of the county of Ulster, candidates for the party position of delegate to the Republican judicial district convention to be held in and for the third judicial district for the purpose of nominating candidates for the office of justice of supreme court. Ulster county is entitled to five delegates and five alternates to said convention.

Third—To recommend to the Republican electors of the county of Ulster, candidates for the nominations of county clerk, coroner and member of assembly.

Fourth—to transact such other and further business as may properly come before such convention.

Pursuant to the rules of the committee aforesaid, such convention shall be composed of three delegates, elected from each of the several election districts in the county of Ulster, who shall be elected at caucuses to be held in the several election districts on Thursday evening, July 28, 1921, at 8 o'clock p. m., for which hour and day caucuses are hereby called to be held in accordance with the rules of the committee.

We also hereby call a convention of said delegates from the several election districts of the city of Kingston, to be convened immediately after the termination of the said county convention, for the purpose of recommending to the Republican electors of the city of Kingston, a candidate for the nomination of mayor of said city; a candidate for the nomination of alderman-at-large for said city, and a candidate for the nomination of judge of the city court for said city.

The said convention and caucuses hereby called to be held, shall be governed by the rules of the Republican county central committee of the county of Ulster.

Dated, Kingston, N. Y., July 12, 1921.

PHILIP ELTING,
Chairman.
JOHN W. ECKERT,
Secretary.

A REPORTER'S TROUBLES

In Trying To Tell Truth About Recent Realty Deals.

Editor, The Freeman:

In Tuesday's issue of the Freeman, in an article concerning the sale to Mrs. Nora Fadoul of the three story brick building on the Strand formerly owned by Martha Hasbrouck, occurs this statement:

"The story secured by a Freeman reporter several days ago from a local real estate agent to the effect that a man named Markle from Accord had bought the building is now said to be untrue."

I am the real estate agent from whom the story in question was secured by the Freeman reporter and was so named therein. The reporter asked me over the telephone if Mr. Markle had bought the properties and I stated that he had. That what I stated was the fact may be verified by an inspection of the recorded conveyances in the office of the clerk of this county. Mr. Markle is still the owner of one of the former Hasbrouck properties. The other he has conveyed to Mrs. Fadoul.

Both transactions were negotiated and closed through my office.

This communication is sent you on the assumption that you have no desire to publish anything but the facts in this matter.

SECOND PYTHIAN TUESDAY SESSION

Need Of Bigger Home At Ogdensburg Is Shown—Permanent Fund Now $101,000—Report of Committee On Laws Adopted.

The second session of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of the State of New York opened in the assembly hall at the Elks' club house, Fair street, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and during the afternoon there was considerable variety to the business transacted. Mayor Canfield, grand chancellor of the grand lodge, presided.

Past Supreme Chancellor Charles S. Davis of Denver, Colorado, was received by the grand lodge after the formal opening, and expressed his pleasure at being present. He spoke on Pythian matters and was accorded an ovation befitting his exalted office.

The report of Grand Keeper of Records and Seal Alonzo Bedell of Haverstraw was presented and read. Afterward it was referred to the committee on subdivision and reference.

Pythian Sisters Received.

Supreme Representative William Grossman and the Grand Lodge Committee on Pythian Sisters consisting of Past Chancellor Robert Cooper of Dunkirk, Supreme Representative Edwin C. O'Connor of Utica and Past Grand Chancellor John A. R. Kapp of Troy presented to the grand lodge a delegation from the Grand Temple of the Pythian Sisters, consisting of Supreme and Grand Lodge officers.

Fraternal greetings were exchanged by the officers of the Grand Lodge and the committee of the Pythian Sisters, and the representatives of the Grand Temple brought words of encouragement to the Grand Lodge in regard to the work which they are conducting wherever Temples have been established.

Report On Pythian Home.

The trustees of the Pythian Home at Ogdensburg, N. Y., submitted their annual report which afterwards was distributed in printed pamphlet form and was referred to the finance committee and other proper channels for appropriate action. The trustees of the Pythian Home are Charles W. Endel, president; John W. Van Demark secretary; George H. Stalker, treasurer; Delos S. Radcliffe and Julius Frank.

Mayor Canfield Cooperated.

In their efforts to manage the affairs of the corporation with a due sense of necessary economy and at the same time properly provide for the necessities of the old folks at the Home, the trustees expressed their appreciation of the valuable cooperation of Grand Chancellor Canfield and others whose helpful suggestions have been of material benefit to the board. The Home at Ogdensburg is a splendid monument to the fraternity and it expresses in concrete form the great heart and generous instincts of the Pythian membership.

More Room Needed.

However, like every human institution, it is ever growing and constantly evolving new conditions. Eight are awaiting admission who for lack of accommodation are being cared for in different localities throughout the state. There are at present ten residents of the Home. It is apparent that additional accommodations must be provided at once, and the trustees are of the opinion that the erection of an addition should be commenced forthwith but are loath to withdraw the amount required from the Permanent Fund of the corporation now amounting to $101,000. They believe this fund should be kept intact so that the earnings thereof should not be lessened.

One of the greatest needs of the Home is a hospital ward where brothers who are afflicted can have the necessary care and comfort. A number of the residents are now unable to ascend and descend the stairs; one is entirely helpless, and others are suffering from the different ailments due to old age, and it is evident that a competent resident nurse soon must be provided.

Contributions Appreciated.

Through the efforts of Trustee Julius Frank, the Ogdensburg Cemetery Association donated to the Pythian corporation a cemetery plot of 1,080 feet in the most desirable location in Ogdensburg Cemetery, the value of which is $1,200.

The annual appeal of the trustees for contributions to the fund, from which the hearts of the residents of the Home are gladdened throughout the year, brought forth a most generous response and illustrates the never failing loyalty of the Pythian membership and the Pythian Sisters, whether in lodges or temples, collectively or as individuals, always with a warm heart for the Pythian Home and those for whom it provides. The amount contributed exceeded by far all previous years. The contributions amounted to $681.20.

The Home Farm.

An analysis of the farm report shows that despite unfavorable conditions there has been no financial loss. It is most gratifying, however, to have the fact established that it is not only good economy to operate our own farm and dairy, but in addition the abundance of pure milk and fresh vegetables means much to the health and happiness of those in the care of the order.

Investment Of Funds.

The trustees are limited as to the character of investments by a Grand Lodge resolution adopted some years ago whereby only guaranteed first mortgages issued by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company are permissible for the investment of its funds. At that time the interest bearing rate was barely 4½ per cent. At this time it is nearly 5½ percent, and this could be further increased if authority were given the board of trustees to purchase state or municipal bonds which at certain periods are obtainable and would yield an income of 6 per cent and over, and which are as secure an investment as guaranteed mortgages. The board of control of the State Insurance Department has tendered the use of its management and judgment in their purchase if permission is granted to the trustees to include the same as investments, which permission the trustees recommended.

The financial statement accompanying the report shows balance on hand and outstanding June 30, 1920, $10,517.81; income, $13,042.49; Christmas fund, $681.20; total disbursements, $21,148.53; balance on hand and outstanding June 30, 1921, $3,092.97. Net assets on June 30, 1920, were $159,453.47; on June 30, 1921, they were $162,193.28, an increase of $2,739.81.

Farm products sold during the year amounted to $1,691.43 and farm products used in the home amounted to $693.08. Maintenance of the farm cost $1,975.16. The report of Superintendent Arthur L. Hartsuff of the Pythian Home stated that conditions for the past year have been rather difficult as to farming, the question of securing competent help being the most serious, owing mainly to the unsettled conditions of labor. The drought affected crops.

Other Grand Lodge Business.

The committee on laws reported through its chairman, Past Chancellor Myron Krieger, on the revision of laws and amendment of by-laws, and the report was adopted.

Uniform Rank Encampment.

A resolution was offered and adopted whereby the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias will hold an encampment in 1922. The committee on convention of the Uniform Rank will make suitable arrangements for next year's encampment.

At five o'clock the Grand Lodge recessed until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

HEALTH CLINIC

To Be Held At Court House All Day Thursday.

A free health clinic will be held Thursday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock and that afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock with Dr. Stanley Wanz of New York, who specializes in chest diseases, in charge. It is expected that all those who have been exposed to tuberculosis or feel the after effects of the flu or are suffering with any chest disease will call at the clinic at the court house on Wall street tomorrow and receive a free examination.

As Bad as the Shower.

While visiting a friend who lives quite a distance from my home, a shower threatened, and I remarked: "I guess I'll go before I get wet." While passing a few more remarks I walked backward toward the door, but not noticing where I was going, I landed in a tub of water on the floor. The shower couldn't have gotten me any wetter.—Chicago Journal.

A FRIEND of mine,
WHO COULDN'T speak,
A WORD of French,
WENT TO Paris.
AND THE first time,
HE HAD to get,
A HAIRCUT and shave.
HE PRACTICED an hour,
MAKING SIGNS,
IN THE looking glass,
SO THE French barber,
WOULD UNDERSTAND him,
AND THEN he went in,
AND WIGGLED his fingers,
THROUGH HIS hair,
AND STROKED his chin,
AND THE barber grinned,
AND FINISHED the job,
THEN MY friend thought,
HE'D BE polite,
SO HE gave the barber,
AN AMERICAN cigarette,
WHICH THE barber smoked,
AND MY friend pointed,
TO HIS mouth,
AND SAID "Likee too,"
AND THE barber roared,
AND SAID "You BET,
I USED to smoke 'em,
WHEN I worked,
IN INDIANAPOLIS,
AND BELIEVE me,
THEY SATISFY!"

HERE'S a smoke that talks in any language and needs no interpreter. Light up a Chesterfield, draw deep—and more plainly than words your smile will tell the world "They Satisfy." LOW RATES WITH INADEQUATE SERVICE IS A SHORT-SIGHTED POLICY

"This commission," the Arizona Corporation Commission declared in a recent rate decision, "is in a position where it can by a short-sighted policy gain certain popular approval by regulating the public utilities of the state down to a position of insolvency. The temporary public benefit which would result from such a policy would be many times offset by the inferior and inadequate service that is always the result of such conditions, and the restriction to extension of service to developing territories is manifestly prejudicial to public interest."

PUBLIC NUISANCE ON CLINTON AVE.

Hundreds Of Transient Chickens Keep Residents Awake Nights And Dogs Kept By Same Family Add To Racket In Daytime.

Residents of Clinton avenue in the vicinity of John street are beginning to consider measures to suppress a public nuisance in the form of a poultry mart which is conducted by a family which recently moved in the neighborhood.

At first the family kept chickens in the basement of the house but the board of health acted on complaints of citizens and compelled removal of the poultry from the house and likewise a general cleaning up of the premises, the odor from which was carried over the neighborhood.

After the board of health had acted, the family constructed a chicken yard and coops in the rear of the premises which is used for storage of from 600 to 800 chickens.

Meanwhile, the family has continuously used Clinton avenue for storage of chickens. An automobile is used during the day for gathering and distributing chickens. The auto delivers the live chickens to boarding houses which do their own butchering and then makes a tour of the farming country to buy fresh supplies from farmers.

The automobile reaches the Clinton avenue house on its return from the country from ten o'clock to midnight. Generally it is filled with crates which are packed with from 200 to 300 chickens to be taken out for sale to the boarding houses early the following morning. Throughout the night the chickens in the crates squak and fight until sleep in the neighborhood is utterly impossible. Then before daybreak the roosters begin to crow while the imprisoned hens add to the racket. At seven o'clock, the poultry dealers start on their day's journey.

Thankful neighbors are glad to see the automobile and its owners depart with their load, but the rest of the family, with a number of dogs owned by them, manage to make enough noise during the daylight hours to supply the deficiency caused by the removal of the poultry. But at night the racket begins again. Residents of the neighborhood believe there is already sufficient law to remove the nuisance.

ON-A-JOB, OFF-A-JOB JIM!

Being a Story Of how Jim got on a job and why he got off it again.

"As the will reads, your uncle leaves you three million dollars but—"

"But!" exclaimed Jim, "there's always a 'but' when a guy expects a plum."

"But there is one condition. From the day that the will is recorded until it is probated, a full two years, you must work at no job longer than two days, nor must you be out of work at any time save Sundays, holidays, two weeks yearly vacation, and in case of serious illness."

Jim stared at the lawyer in bewilderment. "Would you mind reading that again?" he stammered.

Once more the strangest will that Jim had ever heard was read, and the lawyer added as he laid aside the legal document, "In other words, you are to secure a job every two days, and you must be sure to get it during the coming two years."

"That means something like three hundred jobs I'm to get, eh? Uncle John was crazy."

"You won't be ble to push that claim in the courts," was the lawyer's dry remark. "He was absolutely sane when he made that will, as his many friends will testify."

"I didn't mean that! I meant—Great Caesar! you know what I meant. Who ever heard a more unreasonable bequest!"

"And yet the argument he offered is most sane. Your parents died poor, mainly because they never realized the value of work or thrift. You have their tendencies. Your uncle had no desire to leave his fortune to a spendthrift. However, he was fond of you."

"So he makes me work for his money! Very well, I am willing to work, but why not at one profession rather than at three hundred?"

"To make the task a difficult one, to give you something to struggle for. And to keep you in touch with the world of working, struggling human beings. At the end of the two years, he believed you would be aharvel to return to the slothful [illegible] spendthrift."

"[illegible] one chance! that and [illegible] I mean it can be [illegible] I won't get three hundred job."

"Think so?"

"Know so," Jim snapped his teeth stubbornly and stared into space. After a moment's thought, "If I don't try who gets the money?"

"Charities."

"Then I lose anyway if I refuse, and I may win if I try?"

"You've got the idea."

"How much money must I make?"

"Your uncle doesn't mention wages. You must provide enough to feed and clothe yourself. Otherwise—"

"I'll get aboard. When do I start?"

"Next Monday."

Jim rose a grin of exhilaration spreading over his face. "It will be good sport, too. Let me sign my name before my heart stands still with the shock. Three hundred jobs in two years, and three million dollars beckoning me on. Some jackrabbit believe me! From this time on I'll be a regular On-a-job, Off-a-job Jim and Jimmie Lawrence, college cheer of lazy loafer will be no more."

THE GIRL SCOUT CAMP.

Its Charms Described By One Of Scouts—Room For More.

Up in Ideal Park, cozily surrounded by the Catskill Mountains, nestles a camp for Ulster County Girl Scouts.

It is composed of five tents and a club-house, all of which are filled with romping, rollicking girls. Here, in this nest of Nature, the girls work and play and flourish from pale, sickly creatures into plump rosy girls. Early rising and early retiring make pale cheeks red and heavy eyes wide open.

The beautiful days are filled with gay sports such as tennis, base ball, basket ball and dancing. Of course there is some light work.

On rainy days, the Scouts gather around a camp fire in the clubhouse. Here stunts are enacted, stories told and games played.

So, after these many days of eating wholesome food, playing, working and being trained by our able Scout Leader, Mrs. O'Loughlin the girls, with reluctant good byes to those left behind, return home, having not only gained in weight but knowledge which will help them to meet life's troubles and sorrows and always to, "Be Prepared."

A Scout At Camp.

The few vacancies which may occur between now and August 17th may be filled by girls over 12 years old who are not Scouts. Application should be made to Miss Martha H. Davis, 74 John street.

From August 17th to 31st the Girl Scout Council has offered the use of the camp to older girls. Application for this time may be made at the Chamber of Commerce, 448 Broadway.

"Minus Marriage," a new comedy, is the attraction at the Kingston Opera House tonight at 8:30. Cyril Chadwick, popular actor and a Broadway star, has the stellar role supported by a cast of well known Broadway favorites. This comedy tells the story of a girl with too much money, too much time, and nothing special to do with either one. How she endeavors aided and abetted by her friend, a self appointed pioneer of her sex, to wreck her life, constitutes the plot. There will be a matinee performance tomorrow at 2:30 and again tomorrow night at 8:30.

Corporal F. B. Homedew, of South Glens Falls, a member of "B" Troop, state police, is a patient in the Kingston City Hospital as a result of injuries sustained at the Malone headquarters of the troop Monday in a practice polo match. His injuries are not considered serious, as was at first feared.

The horse that threw the trooper was Major Chandler's prize pet, Gaum, presented to him by a state official several months ago. The horse was taken to the Malone headquarters of the new troop to be placed in stud. Homedew rode the animal recently on a 400 mile journey from "K" troop's quarters at White Plains to the Malone barracks.

WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC. WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILD GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

At their own doors—in the very gardens of those who are weak, nervous and ailing all the while is one of the most valuable tonics and strength-builders known to medical science, said Dr. James Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) and the Westchester County Hospital, New York, when consulted recently.

Dr. Sullivan further said:—"If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron you are giving your body the red blood food it craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases, what you need is iron—organic iron to remove the cause of your trouble, and the mildest organic iron is supposed it is often wonderful how quickly your [illegible] complexion disappears and [illegible] becomes." But the [illegible] iron. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of stronger acids on iron filings, while organic iron is a true red blood food, like the iron in your blood itself and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. In fact if you will eat a pint or two of spinach, half a pint of lentils and three or four baked apples each day you will probably not need to take any other form of organic iron; but most people prefer to eat a smaller quantity of iron-containing vegetables and take organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, with them. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. To prove to yourself what Nuxated Iron can do for you, get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles; then take Nuxated Iron for a month and have a new "blood count" made and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased and how much stronger and better you feel; see how the [illegible] came back to [illegible] will surprise.

Insect With Spring-Board Nose.

Among the curious insects of the Malay peninsula studied by a member of the London Zoological society is one called the lizard-fly, which is remarkable for its sudden leaps, made without the aid of its wings. It was only after the observer had carried a specimen to London and carefully examined it that he discovered that a curious projection on the front of its head, a kind of nose with a crease in it, was the leaping organ. When bent back under the abdomen and suddenly released it sent the insect flying.

MEYERS WANTS TO RUN DOWNTOWN

Henry Myers, who operates the Rosendale-Kingston bus line, will make an application to the common council for permission to extend his bus line to the downtown section of the city stopping at the Strand bus terminal for the convenience of his patrons. Mr. Myers's buses now stop at the central terminal on Broadway, and when necessary run to the uptown terminal on Crown street.

At the last session of the common council when the petition of Charles Proper to operate a Lawrenceville-Rosendale-Kingston bus line to the Strand terminal was up for a public hearing a petition was received from a number of downtown business men asking that the petition be granted as they desired the bus to stop at the Strand terminal. It will be remembered that the council refused to grant Proper a permission to operate.

It is expected that the council will grant Mr. Myers's application to stop at the Strand terminal.

KOSHER BUTCHERS TO CONSOLIDATE

Louis Amdur, Jacob Siller, and Isaac Farber, the three well known downtown kosher butchers have decided to consolidate their business, and will use the shops of Messrs. Farber and Siller on East Union street as kosher butcher shops, and the Amdur shop on Meadow street to carry on the wholesale business.

Vacation Bible School Closing.

The daily vacation Bible school class of the Rondout Presbyterian Church will close a most successful term on Friday morning. Thursday will be the last day for the finishing of the handicraft work and the putting on of the last touches of paint. Friday morning class work will be on exhibition from 10 to 11 o'clock, when interested friends may see what the little folks accomplished. The children will bring a basket lunch and close the term with a picnic and games at the church.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL VERY IMPRESSIVE

Grand Lodge Knights and Pythian Sisters Unite In First Dutch Church at Beautiful Service For Dead.

The most impressive memorial service held in Kingston in many years was that held jointly by the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of the State of New York and the Grand Temple of Pythian Sisters of New York, this morning in the First Reformed Church.

The service began at 11:30 o'clock after adjournment of both grand bodies, and lasted three-quarters of an hour. Past Grand Chancellor Charles W. Endel of New York city, chairman of the committee on necrology of the grand lodge, presided. The historic church was filled with the Pythian Knights and Sisters when the service began

After the rendition of Handel's Largo by W. Whiting Fredenburgh, organist and choirmaster of the church, prayer was offered by Grand Prelate James K. O'Connor of Syracuse, and Mrs. Florence Cubberly beautifully rendered a violin solo, "Adoration," by Sinding, with organ accompaniment.

Mrs. Lizzie P. Frerichs of Tottenville, Staten Island, past grand chief of the Pythian Sisters, delivered an impressive eulogy for the Pythian Sisters who had died during the year, in which she elaborated the idea that while it is a beautiful custom to strew flowers about the departed, it is even more beautiful to strew kind deeds and words along the pathway of the living

Mrs Benjamin Johnston, soprano soloist of the church, sang sweetly Liddle's "Abide With Me" after which the names of the Pythian Knights in whose memory the service was held, was read. During the reading of the list the bell of the church was tolled.

Past Grand Chancellor Endel delivered the eulogy for the deceased Knights. He said:

Time's swift chariot has swept past another mile post and from the great Pythian army, battling for the cardinal principles of our order, many have been called to the restless activities of the world beyond. With them life's tournament is over—they have laid down the spear and shield, and with lifted visors they face the tomorrows of a brighter and better world.

These visitations remind us that our stay on earth is but a pilgrimage and is only part of a larger destiny. Though vanished from bodily sight, they have not ceased to be, and it is well with them; them dwell in everlasting spirit. Let those who mourn for them be comforted. In the divine order of nature both life and death, joy and sorrow, serve beneficent ends, and in the fullness of time we shall know why we are tried and why our love brings us sorrow as well as happiness.

"Thus pass away the men of might,
Whose noiseless footprints stamped the age:
Their thoughts that filled the earth with light,
Still glow and glaze on memory's page."

Ours is not a memory of grief. Only happy memories are becoming to the departed, only helpful memories are worth while to the living. If our departed brethren could know of our memorial, if we could solve the great mystery of mysteries and know that they knew, we should still attune our memorial above the murmurings of sorrow. For them the book of life is closed.

This memorial will not be in vain and our departed brothers will be fittingly honored if in the vineyard of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence we cultivate everything in life worth while; if we resolve in our hearts to practice faithfully the things that Pythianism preaches, if we magnify the helpful and beautiful memories of our dead and impress on the living the fraternity whose earnest endeavor is the elevation, the happiness, the betterment of mankind.

The silence of those who have become immortal is more eloquent than words, and one feels the heavenly influence from a neighborhood with those who have entered the still region beyond. Let us dream in memory's wake of those who have crossed the river that marks the unknown shore.

"From end to end,
Of all the landscapes underneath
We find no place that does not breathe
Some gracious memory of a friend."

Whatever our faith, there is one place they should not die; that is within ourselves. Let us learn to live more with our dead and to live with them without sadness and without fear. There is no tomb, however deep, whose stone may not be raised and whose dust scattered by a thought. There would be no difference between the living and the dead if we but knew how to remember. There would be no dead. The best of what they were dwells with us after fate has taken them from us, all their past is ours, and it is wider than the present, more certain than the future.

Let us who are living so shape our course in fraternal as well as in private life that when the tide of time shall for us have ebbed to rise no more may we stand upon the shores of eternity prepared to meet the marvelous dawn of an immortal day.

"There is no death—the stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in heaven's jeweled crown,
They shine forever more."

Following the eulogy, Mrs. Cubberly effectively rendered Kreutzer's "Berceuse," and the service concluded with taps. As the last note sounded within the church, a cornetist outside the edifice took up the music and sounded them again, and as the last note died away a third cornetist from a distance sounded them a third time, the sound finally drew away with impressive effect.

Members of Franklin Lodge, K. of P., meet at lodge room for parade, 7 o'clock sharp Wednesday evening.—Advertisement.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

In Surrogate's court the last will and testament of Anna M. Atkins deceased, late of the town of Warwarsing, has been admitted to probate. Minnie Atkins and James C. Atkins are named as executors. The value of the estate is $3,000 real and $2,000 personal. Ralph Atkins is the attorney for the petitioner.

The last will and testament of Sarah M Vernooy deceased, late of the town of Warwarsing, has been admitted to probate. Value of estate is $11,000. Fred G. Vernooy is named as executor. All the estate is bequeathed to the husband, James S. Vernooy, he to have the life use and income, at his death $1,000 is to be given each to the son Fred G. Vernooy and daughter Mary S. Andrews, the surviving children of the son and daughter to receive the remainder of the estate.

In the matter of the judicial settlement of the accounts of Minerva E. Lasher as executrix of the estate of Charles E. Lasher deceased late of the town of Woodstock, accounts passed and decree issued judicially settling the accounts. Brinnier, Canfield and Brinnier attorneys for the petitioners.

Picturing Pythians.

Several "minute men" from out of town who made tintype snapshots at the rate of one a minute, have done a land office business on John, Fair and Wall streets. Pythians with uniforms, Pythian Sisters and children who accompanied their parents to the grand lodge convention being willing subjects for the street photographers.

BRIDGE RIVETER LOST HIS TEETH

John O'Brien, a riveter employed in the building of the Rondout creek bridge, lost most of his upper teeth this morning when struck in the mouth with a red hot rivet, but after having some false teeth inserted in the place of the missing ones he gamely returned to work.

The rivets used in riveting together the steel work are all heated to a white heat in a forging kettle, and when they have reached the necessary heat are removed from the kettle with a pair of steel pincers and then thrown to the riveter at work on the bridge who catches them in a keg or bucket and rivets them in place as fast as they are thrown to him.

This morning the rivet thrown to O'Brien struck an obstruction which caused it to rebound upwards catching O'Brien in the mouth The side of his nose was also burned.

Excels Greece.

A young Greek, whose home is in Athens, was a visitor to the capitol, and after making the rounds of the different apartments and viewing the beauties of the save he said he had seen all the finest buildings in his native country, but none of them could compare with Kentucky's capitol for beauty and elegance of construction.—Frankfort State Journal.

FRUIT MEN WILL MEET ON AUG. 24

At Orange Lake—State Commissioner Hogue to be Among the Speakers—Ulster County Men on General Committee for Event.

James E Sleight, manager of the annual outing of the Farmers and Fruit Growers of the Hudson valley, reports splendid progress in the plans for this event, which is to be held in Orange Lake Park on Wednesday, August 24. He has received acceptances from the following to act on the general committee for the occasion:

The Hon. B. B. Odell, the Hon. Henry M. Leonard, the Hon. W. Johnston McKay, the Hon. Jonathan D. Wilson, Edward Barnes, J. A. Hepworth, Milo Hepworth, Ralph Young, William Wright, J. Foster Wygant, J. C. Wygant, Howard H. C. Wygant, Wilber Haviland, Sands Haviland, Dubois Anderson, John Rusk, Edward Fowler, Albert Elgee, William Elgee, Dorley Hutchinson, John Passmore, J. Grimley, H. Dawes, C. Baxter, H. S. Tuttle, James A. Staples, A. R. Beal, the Hon. Senator Caleb Baumes, the Hon. Arthur E. Brundage, the Hon. E. C. Quimby, J. Townsend Cassedy, D. C. Dominick, William J. Kohl, Bryant B. Odell, T. Conway, P. Gallagher, J. McLaughlin, H. Purdy, Charles Bloomer, W. Covert, C. C Lockwood, J. W. Bingham, J. Quimby, S. M. Quimby, George Sulter, Charles Greiner, Cal. Staples, F. McLaughlin, J. G. Graves, W. J. Cosman, William Brown, Edward Carpenter, C. Harcourt, B. Harcourt, William Wardell, F. G. Velie, H. A Gade, L. Morehead, E. A. Sleight, M. L. Sleight, George Cole, Walter Betts, Moser Smith, E. G. Fowler, William Wygant, G. G. Fowler, E. Fowler, H. Cooley, Charles Reynolds, E. Westphal, Arthur Reynolds, James D. Tweed, James V. Van Gorden, Alex. Goldberg, W. Y. Velie, James Habeley, W. R. Perkins, F. S. Craft, F. Baker and W. Cozman.

George E. Hogue, the new commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture, will make his first visit to Orange county on the occasion of the outing at the lake. Word has been received from Commissioner Hogue that he will be pleased to attend the outing. While he has not yet definitely decided upon the topic for his address which he will make at the outing, it is likely he will discuss the general agricultural outlook. The farmers and fruit growers of Orange and the adjoining counties will undoubtedly turn out in large numbers to greet the new commissioner.

It is expected former Governor B. B. Odell will act as chairman. The Hon. Caleb H. Baumes senator from that district, will be one of the speakers.

Exhibits by various business concerns, of special interest to farmers—and there will be many of them judging from present indications—will give the outing a sort of county fair aspect.

Ambulance Calls Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Robinson was removed from 183 O'Neil street to the Benedictine Hospital in the ambulance Tuesday, and Mrs. Clara Turkin was removed from 77 Downs street to the Day Boat that afternoon.

Changing the Basis.

Two preachers, one white and the other colored, served rural charges in Mississippi which were coterminous. The negro received a considerably larger salary than his white brother, who asked him if it was not his custom to expel his members who failed to pay. "No, boss," he replied, "we would not like to put the gospel on a money basis. We gets them to subscribe, and if they don't pay we turns them out for lying."—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

English Needle Industry.

English needles were first made at Long Crendon, Oxfordshire, and afterward at Redditch, while their manufacture was still in the main a home industry, different stages being completed in the cottages of the workers who were generally women. Then came machinery; fortunes were made—sometimes lost—in the needle trade as in every other industry.

Safety Match Swedish Invention.

The safety match was the invention of a Swedish manufacturer named Lundstrom. It has been on the market since 1855. Its head contains no phosphorus, but holds a mixture of which chlorate of potash usually forms a part. The striking surface, on the side of the box, is formed by a compound of red phosphorus and sand. The safety match is manufactured chiefly in Sweden, Norway and Japan.

A Narrow Escape.

The motion picture people are at their wits' ends for scenarios with new plots. Don't they know that there are but 37 plots which comprehend every possible human experience and are the basis for dramatist and story and novel writer? Judging by what we have seen on the screen, but a dozen have been used.—Los Angeles Times.

The Single Track.

The professor was being shown over an English museum one day by one of the directors. They came to the room where the stuffed birds were exhibited. "Now, these stuffed birds," said the director, "are among the finest specimens in the country. They're worth thousands and thousands of pounds." "You don't say so!" said the professor, studying the case; "what are they stuffed with, then?"
